A RUNAWAY CAR BRINGS DEATH AND INJURY TO MANY

Axle Breaks on Shady Avenue Hill, Motorman Losing Control.

SIDESWIPES A WAGON

One Man Is Killed, Another Loses a Leg and Nearly Score Suffer Minor Injuries.

JOHN S. MOORE IS THE VICTIM

One man was killed, seven persons seriously injured, and over a dozen others cut and bruised in a street car accident on Shady avenue at 5:40 o'clock last evening.

THE DEAD:

JOHN S. MOORE, aged 56 of 305 Shady avenue, proprietor of a marble works in Wilkinsburg, right leg broken above ankle and internally injured. Died at 10 o'clock at the Pittsburgh hospital.

THE INJURED:

PETER BOCKER, a negro, aged 35, of 5171 Dauphin street, right collar bone broken, deep cut on back of head, and left leg crushed. Was taken to Dr. J. J. Mullen's emergency hospital where his leg was amputated at the knee.

ANDREW OWENS, a negro, Berlin street, driver for Eugene Scanlon, contractor, back strained. Taken home in emergency wagon.

TONY CANUER, an Italian, living at 1037 Willow street, cut on face and right foot broken. Taken to Pittsburgh hospital in emergency wagon.

CHARLES VILYON, Italian, 1065 Willow street, ankle sprained and cut on the head. Taken to Pittsburgh hospital.

MRS. MOORE, Forty-fifth street, badly bruised and shaken up. Went home.

UNKNOWN YOUNG WOMAN, about 26, bruised and shaken up. Taken to the home of friends at 834 Dennison avenue in Lloyd's automobile. Refused to give name.

JOHN SHEARKEY, 519 San Juan street, employed by the Grace Plumbing Company, right leg broken and shoulder injured. Injuries dressed by Dr. Thomas, who took him home in a carriage.

Brakes Would Not Hold.

The accident was occasioned by the failure of the brakes to hold, owing to the slippery rails, a rain having fallen some time before. As the car reached the crest of the hill on Shady avenue, above Fifth avenue, the motorman, E. J. L. Mullen, applied the rail brakes, and when they failed to check the speed of the car, applied the hand brake and opened the sand valve. The car had gained great headway and its speed could not be checked, so it shot across Fifth avenue at full speed.

The rear axle broke as the car clattered over the crossing at Fifth avenue and the lurching of the car caused a panic among the passengers. As car neared Kentucky avenue it swayed so violently that the rear end struck a heavy road wagon owned by Eugene Scanlon, knocked the driver, Andrew Owens, from the seat, and forced the wagon against a telephone pole.

The car was crowded with passengers, many of whom were workmen returning from their work. Mr. Moore was on the rear platform and jumped before the car struck the wagon. He was unconscious for a short time when picked up, and was taken to his home. With him at the time was his daughter, Dr. Elizabeth Moore, who had him removed to the Pittsburgh hospital after she had ascertained the extent of his injuries. She was with him when he died.

Shearkey was standing on the rear platform and as the rear end of the car struck the wagon he was knocked off, and in the fall broke his right leg and his collar bone.

All of those injured save the driver, Owens, received their hurts by jumping from the car or by being cut by flying pieces of glass. Had they remained on the car they would have received little more than a severe shaking up.

Bocker was thrown under the wheels of the car and his leg was crushed from the ankle to the knee. He also suffered a severe cut on the right thigh and has a small scalp wound on the back of his head. He was taken to Dr. J. J. Mullen's emergency hospital where his leg was amputated. He is not expected to recover.

Caused Excitement in East End.

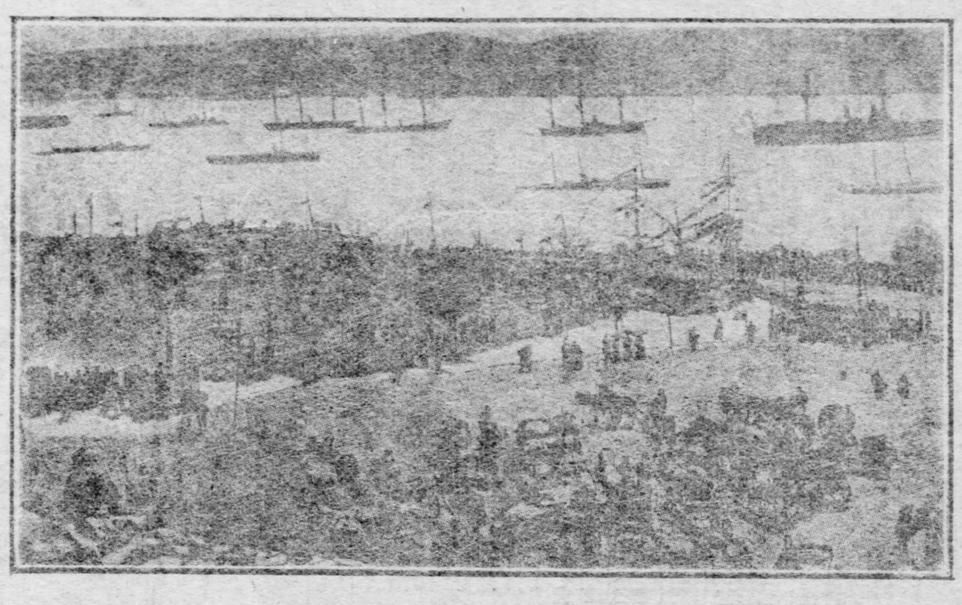
The car was not badly wrecked save that many of the windows were broken by persons being thrown against them. The car was run to Center avenue where it lay half an hour, after which it proceeded to the Homewood barns under its own power. The wagon was not damaged nor the horses injured.

The news of the accident occasioned widespread alarm in the East End owing to the exaggerated first report.

Shortly before the accident occurred a wagon belonging to a Ithia water company was struck by a Hamilton avenue car at Fifth and Amberson avenues and the driver, B. Wagner of 514 Grant avenue, Allegheny, thrown out. He was cut about the head and somewhat bruised, but was able to go home after having his injuries dressed by Dr. J. H. McClelland.

While a Frankstown avenue night car was lying at Sixth street and Liberty avenue about 1:15 o'clock this morning the motorman pulled his reverse lever as he was about to step out of the car and the fuse block exploded and blazed up. One woman and six men were on the car and all made a rush for the door. E. J. Sais of Wilkinsburg fell and sprained his left ankle.

SCENES AT VLADIVOSTOK WHERE REBELLION RAGES



DAVID CREESE HAS TROUBLES ENOUGH FOR ENTIRE CROWD

Allegheny Man, With Mother and Daughter at Death's Door, Is Robbed, Hit by Runaway Incline and Burned in Explosion.

David C. Creese, foreman for the Baker Contracting Company, building the Glenfield dam in the Ohio river, has encountered more hard luck within the past few weeks than many persons meet in years. Three weeks ago his mother, Mrs. S. E. Creese, came from Wellsville, O., to assist in nursing Miss Belle M. Creese, her granddaughter. The aged woman became ill and is now near death's door. Miss Creese is in a critical condition with typhoid fever.

While on his way to his residence, 13 Clifton park, Allegheny, last Thursday evening Mr. Creese became the victim of a pickpocket, who took $106 and his gold watch and chain. On his chain was a valuable Masonic charm. The following night, while standing in the waiting-room of the Clifton Park incline, Mr. Creese was struck and narrowly escaped death when one of the cars dashed down the incline and ploughed through the waiting-room. Its flight was stopped after it had crossed Sarah street and crashed into a house.

Some extra work caused Mr. Creese to remain at the Glenfield dam last night, and while he was lighting a lantern it exploded. His right hand and arm were terribly burned. Dr. Stanley Small dressed the burns, and Mr. Creese was able to go home. He was formerly a railroad man and is a member of Post 88, G. A. R.

TOOK OFF THE LID FOR HALF AN HOUR

Red Tucker Opens Up the First Ward, to the Delight of Its Habitues.

POLICE AGAIN SHUT IT DOWN

The First ward was open for just about a half-hour last night. For that short space of time the proprietresses of the disorderly houses thought the "Budsey-Buck" ban had been lifted, and lights and joy and piano-playing reigned supreme.

It was only a dream, and presently the piano was stilled, the lights were concealed behind heavy front doors and forbidding shutters shut out all views of the interior. The ostensible official opener, claiming to represent Alderman Toole and the police bureau, too, was behind the bars at the Central station, marked down as a suspicious person.

Detectives Aymer and Crooks were on Fifth avenue about 10 o'clock when that street became alive with the news that the First ward was "open" again, and that all the houses, those closed by order of the director of the department of public safety and those shut up by Constable "Budsey" Joyce on Sunday were lighted up; that the police and constable had removed the taboo and things were again as they used to be.

Puzzles the Detectives.

Crooks and Aymer were curious and went down to investigate. Sure enough, the whole ward seemed to have got the word that everything was all right again, for the front doors were open, the red lights shone out on the sidewalk, and the sound of music and chatter of voices could be heard. Still more curious, the two detectives went into one of the houses and inquired.

"Oh, yes, we've opened up again," said one of the women. "Orders came from the police headquarters that it was all right, now that 'Buck' is gone."

"Yes, indeed," said another, "word came from Joyce that it was all right, and we could start up again, now that 'Buck' is gone."

Crooks and Aymer asked who brought the orders.

"Why, 'Red' Tucker," one woman said. "You know 'Red.' He had a list of all the houses closed down by the police, and told us it was all right."

"It was 'Red' Tucker," said another woman. "He had a list of all the houses closed down by Constable Joyce, and told us Joyce said it was all right and to open up."

"Red" Tucker Is Trailed.

Tucker is a cabman, well-known to all the women. In the course of his career he has driven men in official life through the district, and the women supposed his words were authoritative. But the detectives knew better. They told all the women that Tucker was not reliable, and ordered them to close up again. Then they trailed Tucker. They found the cabman in the Diamond, comfortably

THREE MEN ARE KILLED IN A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

Explosive Being Thawed Near a Fire Has Fatal Results—Houses Shaken Over Two Miles Away.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 15.—An explosion of dynamite in a stone quarry two miles from this city this morning resulted in the death of three men and perhaps fatally injured a fourth.

The dead: Louis Sciratti, Elsa Spradling, Joseph Angelusi.

The injured: Louis Minotti.

The men, who were Italians except Spradling, were around a fire at which some dynamite was being thawed out when an explosion occurred which shook houses two miles away. Parts of the men were blown across Elk river several hundred yards.

HAVE COFFIN OF STEEL.

Eight Thousand Pounds of the Metal in Which Men Died Will Be Buried by Company.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—During the inquest today in the cases of John Forkin and Joseph Garcia, laborers who were killed at the Midvale steel works November 10, it was testified that the two men had entered a pit and that 80,000 pounds of hot metal poured from a leak and completely absorbed them.

Not a trace of the bodies was found. The steel company has decided to take about 8,000 pounds of the steel from the place the men were last seen and have it buried out of respect for the dead workmen. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

P. R. R. TRAIN IS WRECKED NEAR AN INDIANA TOWN

LOGANSPORT, IND., Nov. 16.—It is reported that a Pennsylvania passenger train from Chicago was wrecked near Logansport this morning by a collision with a meat train. Wrecking trains have been dispatched to the scene. The number of calualties, if any, is unknown here.

CZAR AND FAMILY FLEE TO SAFE RETREAT

Go to Tsarskoe Selo While Fierce Snow Storm Keeps Rioters Quiet.

VLADIVOSTOK IS IN FLAMES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 15.—The emperor and empress and their children left Peterhof today for Tsarskoe-Selo.

A fierce northeast blizzard and snow which blew down on St. Petersburg tonight prevented bloodshed in the Russian capital. The bitter cold, by forcing the strikers to remain indoors, did more to preserve order than all the Cossack cavalry patrolling the streets. Heavy military reserves are stationed in all the industrial districts, but up to midnight there was no rioting. There were rumors of collisions in various parts of the city, but on investigation they turned out to be false.

The Social Democrats had an impressive response on the part of all organizations of workmen to their summons for a general political strike to demonstrate their solidarity with the struggle of their Polish comrades for autonomy and to protest against the execution of the mutinous sailors at Cronstadt. The men walked out of all the big mills and factories and the employes of the Baltic & Warsaw railroads, the printers and other classes of laborers struck, but the shops in the center of the city were not closed. Troops took charge of the electric light station which were operated by sailors, so that the city was not placed in darkness tonight.

The situation has caused a renewal of the panicky feeling among the inhabitants whose nerves were already shattered by the events of the last fortnight and hundreds of persons who had just returned are again leaving for Finland. The foreign residents are becoming more and more alarmed and many of them are hastily preparing to go abroad for the winter.

In case the Finnish Socialists should join their Russian comrades and tie up the Finnish railroad the only egress would be by water and the freezing of the gulf of Finland a fortnight hence would close the last exit. The foreign embassies share the public alarm and the British embassy is advising the immediate removal of women and children.

A telegram from Vladivostok says that the whole town and the port are now ablaze. The greater part of the place has already been consumed.

The situation today is desperate. The mobs are in practical control of the town and the looting which has marked the progress of the outbreak continues unabated. The rioters likewise continue to fire buildings, and the flames are spreading rapidly.

To make the situation worse, the food supply is growing short and famine threatens the city. The vessels in the harbor are crowded with refugees, who are afraid to remain on shore.

During the first day of rioting 300 rioters, mostly sailors and artillerymen, were killed or wounded.

JUDGES APPOINT TAX REVISION BOARD FOR COUNTY

They Name William Hill, T. L. Rodgers and E. Z. Smith.

MANY APPLICANTS

New Officials Will Have Complete Control of State and County Assessments.

WILL TAKE MANY CLERKS

William Hill of Carnegie and Thomas L. Rodgers and Edwin Z. Smith of Pittsburgh will comprise the board for the assessment and revision of taxes. They were appointed yesterday for a term of three years by the nine common pleas court judges of the county. They will each receive a salary of $4,000 per annum.

There were a great many applicants for the places. The appointees are all well-known men. Mr. Hill was the former superintendent of the Allegheny county workhouse and is now a banker in Carnegie. Mr. Rodgers was for years connected with the Pittsburgh grain elevator. He is a brother of William B. Rodgers, city solicitor, and father of former Judge Elliott Rodgers. Mr. Smith is a lawyer and has been active in the Voters' Civic league.

By the creation of this board a radical change is made in the tax system for county and state purposes. The new board will organize as soon as possible. When it is ready for business the whole matter of tax assessment and revision will be taken out of the hands of the county commissioners.

Were Many Applicants.

The act creating the board was passed by the last legislature. The local judges doubted the constitutionality of the law and declined to make the appointments. The matter was carried to the supreme court. The constitutionality of the act was sustained last month. Since that time dozens of men have been besieging the judges for places on the board. The nine judges got together yesterday afternoon and at the end of a session lasting about one and one-half hours Judge Marshall Brown announced the selection of the three men.

It is the duty of the board to divide the county into "convenient" districts and appoint one subordinate assessor for each district. At present there are 21 assessors. This number may be decreased. It is the duty of the assessors to make assessments of all property taxable for state and county purposes, together with a list of all persons taxable upon occupations. Under the new law this data must be turned over to the tax board by November 1.

Something About the Cost.

This year the regular assessors were late in starting their work because there was uncertainty about the appointment of the new board. So far not more than a half dozen assessors have made returns to the commissioners, and all of the books will not be in before the middle of January. This will delay the report the new board must make to the state. The law says the report must be sent to Harrisburg on or before December 31.

Under the old law the assessors were paid $2 a day. The new one fixes the compensation at $3 a day for time actually employed. It is probable the assessors will demand the extra dollar. This will increase the cost of the assessment about $19,000 and make the total pay of the assessors about $57,000.

Heretofore the county commissioners have had charge of the revision of assessments. The new board takes over this work. It has power to increase or decrease assessments. All appeals are heard by it and the valuations stand until the next triennial assessment. The taxpayer has the right to appeal to the common pleas courts. The next triennial assessment will be made in 1907, the "field" work being done next year.

The tax board will take over the transcribing room and the deed registry

MINERS BLOWN TO ETERNITY IN SHAFT

Fire Damp in Braznell Mine Spreads Death and Destruction.

BODIES IN DEBRIS

Seven Missing Victims Either Torn to Atoms or Buried in the Wreckage.

IN AN ILL-FATED DISTRICT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 15.—The fourth mine explosion in Washington county in less than six weeks today killed eight men and injured three more at a new shaft of the Braznell Coal Company at Bentleyville, this county, 16 miles east of Washington. The disaster is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of natural gas, not mine gas.

THE DEAD:

EDWARD FARRAGHER, shaft superintendent, aged 26, single, resided at Bentleyville.

EDWARD HASTIE, shift boss, aged 35, single, lived at Bentleyville.

G. B. WAGONER, machine runner, aged 27, married, lived at Bentleyville.

JOHN M'CARTEY, mucker, aged 38, married, lived at Bentleyville, killed on outside by falling tipple.

J. SHICOLA, mucker, aged 29, lived at Bentleyville.

J. HOSKINS, mucker, aged 27, single, lived at Bentleyville.

JOE STOKES, colored, mucker, aged 38, single, lived at Bentleyville.

F. H. NEWMAN, machine runner, aged 27, married, lived at Bentleyville.

THE INJURED:

CHARLES PADDOCK, aged 28, working outside mine. Head badly cut, but not serious.

WILLIAM APPLEGATE, hurt on outside of mine by falling tipple, not seriously.

STEVE SKEVES, aged 30, injured internally by falling tipple, not serious.

Met Death in the Mine.

All the injured will recover. The shaft where the gas let go was the middle one of three being sunk by the Braznell company on the A. J. Buffington farm, one-quarter mile north of the Bentleyville borough limits. It is designated as shaft No. 1, having been the one on which operations were first started.

The men met their doom at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon. Seven died in the depths of the shaft, while one was killed while he worked at the mouth. He and the three injured men were caught beneath the falling timbers of the shaft tipple which tumbled from its foundations and was swept away by the force of the exploding gas.

The explosion was one of the most peculiar which has ever occurred in the history of mines in Washington county. The hole in the ground where the eight lives were blotted out had not yet penetrated the coal vein. The dreaded mine gas had not and could not yet have been encountered. The Braznell company about four months ago began sinking three new shafts to open up an extensive coal tract near Bentleyville.

Found Natural Gas.

Work on shaft No. 1 had progressed more rapidly than in the others and the hole had been pushed to a depth of 195 feet today. Two weeks ago natural gas was discovered leaking through the sides of the shaft and more than a week ago the workmen had been ordered to carry on their excavations with safety lamps. The work was divided among three daily shifts, which entered the workings at 7, 11 and 3 o'clock, respectively. The shift which met death this afternoon entered the cage at 3:20 o'clock and had scarcely reached the lower levels when the explosion came. In this shift were seven men, all of whom were killed instantly, it is supposed.

The men killed were standing on a platform 50 feet from the bottom of the shaft. On account of the large accumulation of water, work was started a few days ago on the construction of a "water ring." This ring, intended to catch the water, was built of concrete, and from it the fluid was pumped to the surface. The miners all had safety lamps and any gas escaping from any source could not have been ignited there.

The men employed about the mine say that high above the workmen, 50 feet from the surface, was hung a torch to guide the men. It is believed that the seven men, when they began operations, immediately struck a pocket of natural gas, which, letting go with tremendous pressure, rushed upward and ignited from the open torch, the explosion following instantly.

Hurt at Mine's Mouth.

The force of the exploding gas was terrific. The men working about the tipple were thrown against the timbers. Newman was completely buried beneath the tipple walls and his life crushed out. The other three men with him escaped with severe injuries.

That the bodies of the men were fearfully mangled is shown by the scenes following the explosion. Fragments of the bodies were hurled above the opening of the shaft while timbers of the scaffold and the side braces of the shaft were cast out of the opening 150 feet.

Men engaged in the sinking of shafts Nos. 2 and 3 were first apprised of the explosion by the report and the falling of the tipple. They rushed to the open

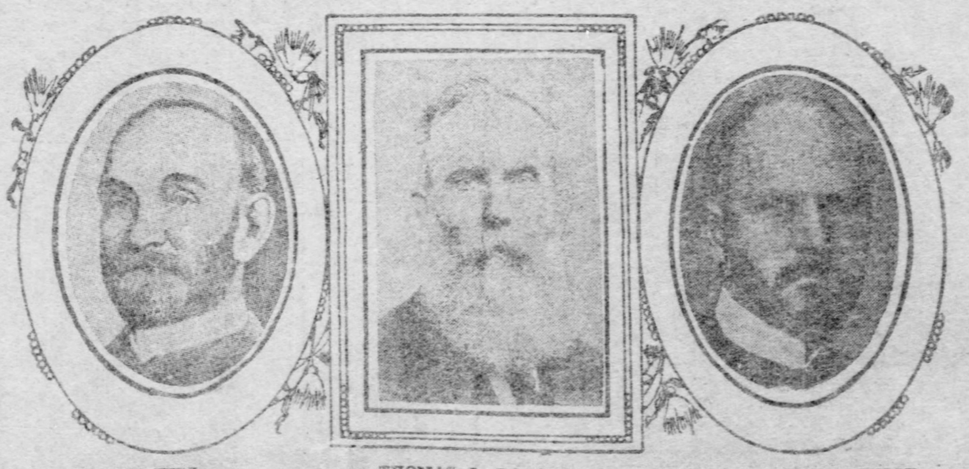
THE BOARD OF TAX ASSESSMENT AND REVISION



WILLIAM HILL. THOMAS L. RODGERS. EDWIN Z. SMITH.

DENIALS MADE BY HARRIMAN

Directly Disputes Statements Made by Hyde on the Stand.

ACTS A GOOD FRIEND

Advice Given Young Man Only for His Own Good, but It Is All Wasted.

TELLS OF AMBASSADORSHIP

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—E. H. Harriman, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, former member of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and connected with many railroads and financial institutions, the former friend of James Hazen Hyde, who charged him with acts of an unfriendly nature in his testimony yesterday, was one of the chief witnesses before the Armstrong committee on insurance investigation today.

Mr. Harriman was called immediately after recess and his testimony was a series of denials of the charges made by Mr. Hyde. Contrary to Mr. Hyde's statement, Mr. Harriman said Mr. Hyde came to him about a year ago and asked him to use his influence to have him appointed ambassador to France. Mr. Harriman said he would speak to President Roosevelt when he saw him, but added that he did not recommend Mr. Hyde for the post.

Upon Mr. Hyde's testimony relative to the settlement of the Odell suit being read to him, Mr. Harriman denied that he had suggested to Mr. Hyde any danger of a repeal of the charter of the Mercantile Trust Company directly or indirectly, and stated that Mr. Hyde came to him and asked him to use his influence with Mr. Odell toward a settlement of the suit.

Makes General Denials.

Mr. Harriman explained that he wanted Mr. Hyde's individual signature to the syndicate agreement of the $50,000,000 Union Pacific pool because no syndicate wants a corporation as a member. He justified this because it was difficult to guard confidences when more than one individual represented the same interest.

He denied that he ever advised Mr. Hyde to sell his stock until after the report of the Frick committee, and said he had offered to subscribe $500,000 to assist Mr. Hyde in retaining his stock.

Mr. Harriman said the Frick report never mentioned the Union Pacific deal specifically, but included it under the general statement that Mr. Hyde had committed the society in unwarrantable transactions without the knowledge of the committee. Mr. Harriman thought it perfectly proper for the Equitable to buy Union Pacific under an agreement to hold it for five years. He did not know that it was Mr. Hyde's personal money in this deal and always supposed it was that of the Equitable.

Witness also denied that he had requested that the executive committee be not informed of this deal, and when Mr. Hyde's testimony on this point was read to him, he replied that "he did not remember." Mr. Harriman said that early in the Equitable troubles he had defended Mr. Hyde from attacks, and had advised him to move the adoption of the Frick report, telling him that he would stand by him through thick and thin.

That French Ambassadorship.

Asked what he said to President Roosevelt about the French ambassadorship, Mr. Harriman said:

"I simply told him that I had been requested to suggest to him the appointment of Mr. Hyde, and that Mr. Hyde was located in Paris, and as I understood, had a good position there, and I had done what I had been requested to do."

When Mr. Harriman had been excused and just before he left the witness stand, Mr. Untermyer asked permission to cross-examine the witness. Chairman Armstrong referred the matter to the committee, but before doing so Mr. Untermyer said:

"I think that we have here for the first time in this investigation a square issue of fact between two gentlemen, and I know of no better way of determining such an issue of fact than by the test of cross-examination. Somebody is very grievously mistaken in his recollection of the facts, and we should like to know who it is."

Mr. Hughes and the committee then consulted for a few minutes, and Chairman Armstrong announded that the purposes of the committee would not be subserved by granting Mr. Untermyer's request. Mr. Hughes said the committee wanted to be fair, and that if there were any questions Mr. Untermyer wanted asked, if they were submitted to him and he deemed them pertinent, he would put them to the witness.

Acted Only as a Friend.

Answering the question of Mr. Untermyer through Mr. Hughes, Mr. Harriman said that when he requested Mr. Hyde to move the adoption of the Frick report he did not acquaint him with its purport. Mr. Harriman thought that that was information enough for Mr. Hyde. He intended, though, that Mr. Hyde should understand the report was adverse to him. Asked if he thought it an advisable thing for Mr. Hyde to move the adoption of the Frick report, Mr. Harriman said he was acting as a friend to protect him from associates who were trying to oust him.

Mr. Untermyer broke in and asked: "Didn't you know that the Frick report you had would disgrace him?" but Senator Armstrong rapped vigorously for order and told Mr. Harriman that he need not answer the question.

Mr. Hyde was again recalled after Mr. Harriman and denied that he suggested the settlement of the Odell suit, as testified by Mr. Harriman. He reaffirmed his testimony of yesterday on that point, and said he had nothing to add.

Answering Assemblyman James T. Rogers of the committee, Mr. Hyde said he introduced Mr. Colby to Mr. Odell in Mr. Harriman's office one day and they had an interview, but he was not present. Mr. Rogers asked if Odell ever said anything to him, or in his hearing, about proceedings against the Mercantile Trust Company other than legal proceedings, and Mr. Hyde replied "No."

Men Out of Office Most Dangerous.

Again answering Mr. Rogers, Mr. Hyde said the statements of the attack on the charter came from Mr. Harriman, subsequent to June, 1904. Mr. Hyde admitted that the legislature was not in session. Assemblyman Rogers then asked: "Then I want to ask you how the danger of possible legislation could in the slightest degree have influenced you when there was no legislature in session?"

Mr. Hyde replied: "There was one going to be in session."

"But," said Mr. Rogers, "Gov. Odell was going out of office on the 31st of December."

"People out of office are sometimes more influential than people in office," responded Mr. Hyde.

Mr. Murray said that prior to June, 1905, there was a memorandum account of perhaps $400,000 that was taken up by check. This account had been carried in the department ever since Mr. Murray's connection with it in the early 90s. This account was a cash memorandum book; there was no indication in the book as to who got the $400,000 or of the times at which it was taken. This book was in place of a ticket in the drawer, and was treated as cash on hand. Mr. Murray was asked what the auditing committee did when it came across this book, and created much amusement when he replied that Mr. Jordan was the auditor.

Senator Armstrong asked Mr. Murray if he had any communication with Mr. Jordan or knew where he was, and the witness replied that he had not seen or heard of him since he walked out of the Equitable building, and knew of no one that did know Mr. Jordan's whereabouts.

Adjournment was then taken.

R. F. BIGHAM MAY GET RICH PLUM

Friends Expect George Z. Hosack to Appoint Him County Delinquent Tax Collector.

DONAHOE AFTER WAINWRIGHT

Friends of R. F. Bigham of Carnegie are confident he will be appointed delinquent tax collector for the county by Treasurer-elect George Z. Hosack. Mr. Bigham is chief clerk in the office and is thoroughly familiar with the duties.

Mr. Bigham is one of the strongest Republican workers in the Sixth legislative district. He has performed good service for the party and the impression prevails generally that Treasurer Hosack intends to reward him. The position is one of the best in the county.

W. H. Stevenson returned yesterday from the east, where he has been since the election. He says he is not a candidate for mayor. "This is a time," says he, "the office should seek the man. It is a great opportunity for the people to elect a mayor who will give them a good administration."

Representative James F. Woodward of McKeesport has called a mass meeting of the citizens of that city in common council chamber for tomorrow evening. Plans are to be made to fight any Greater Pittsburgh legislation which will include McKeesport. J. Denny O'Neil announces he will hold a similar mass meeting on Saturday night. The O'Neil and the Woodward crowds do not mix.

The Greater Pittsburgh committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association will hold a meeting sometime soon to decide what part it will take in securing annexation legislation.

P. J. Donahoe has been heard from. He has issued a letter announcing his candidacy for select council in the Eighteenth ward, subject to the decision of the Republican primaries. He says the ward should have a representative in select council "that represents." His platform is "a city government of, by and for the people."

Donahoe is the hero of many hard-fought political battles at the "Point." For a number of years he was a power in the First ward. When Magee and Flinn split with "Uncle Bob" Elliott, Donahoe went with Elliott. They assisted in the election of Mayor Bernard McKenna, and Donahoe's reward was a police magistracy. After leaving office, Donahoe got into several newspaper ventures and for a time edited a paper in Franklin, Pa. He returned to town, and in 1902 was elected councilman from the Fourth ward. He was ousted on the ground he had not resided in Pittsburgh a sufficient number of years previous to his election.

Donahoe saw the Point population drifting to the Eighteenth ward, and he drifted with it, establishing himself in business there. He immediately got busy in politics, and now he wants the scalp of Select Councilman S. J. Wainwright. It he does not win, he will conduct a campaign worth watching.

NEW CLASS AT WORK.

Annual Reunion of Scottish Rites Proceeds—Class of 1903 holds Banquet at the Henry.

The work of the 53d annual reunion of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite bodies of the valley of Pittsburgh, was continued yesterday. In the forenoon Pennsylvania council, Princes of Jerusalem, was in session, and in the afternoon the degrees were administered by Pittsburgh chapter of Rose Croix. The consistory work started last evening and will be continued today and tomorrow.

The Scottish Rite class of 1903 of the valley of Pittsburgh enjoyed a banquet at the Hotel Henry last night. There were about 100 members of the class in attendance. While the banquet was occasioned by the big Masonic gathering in Pittsburgh this week, it had nothing to do with the meeting in an official way. Judge Robert E. Umbel of Uniontown was the principal speaker, while James I. Buchanan, district deputy of the valley of Pittsburgh, served as toastmaster and also delivered an address. There were several other speakers who responded to impromptu toasts.

BURNS MAY BE FATAL.

Sharpsburg Man Tries to Extinguish Fire With Serious Result.

While trying to extinguish flames caused by a gasoline explosion in his home, Conrad Masith, a carpenter of 318 Eighth street, Sharpsburg, received burns yesterday afternoon which may prove fatal.

Mrs. Masith was attempting to fill a gasoline stove when the fluid exploded and Masith attempted to smother the fire with a cloth. He was burned about the face and legs and last night was delirious. Physicians have little hope for his recovery. Mrs. Masith was burned about the arms, but not seriously.

REMARRIAGE OF AGED COUPLE AFTER 50 YEARS' WEDDED LIFE.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zimmerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zimmerman of Kilbuck township, near Emsworth, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday in the house where they have lived for the last 40 years. Mr. Zimmerman is 77 years old and his wife 68. Both were born in Germany and came to this country early in the fifties. They were married in Emsworth, November 15, 1855, by the Rev. Charles Walter. Mr. Zimmerman purchased a tract of land, where they still live, and he built their home when there were only 12 houses between Dixmont and Avalon. The old couple were again married yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Evan Dietrich of the Lutheran church of Glenfield. They have four sons and two daughters and 13 grandchildren, who assembled at the home yesterday. Their children are: John, Jacob and George, all of Kilbuck township; Peter Zimmerman, Mrs. John Beckert and Mrs. Adam Clair, all of West View.

HUNTERS ARE HIT OF THE BIG SHOW

Gay Uniforms of Riders Lend Cheery Air to Proceedings of Third Day.

GREAT HORSES ON THE TRACK

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The picturesque feature of the horse show so far was when the finals in the Corinthian class were held this afternoon. This called for hunters to be ridden in hunting costume. Three jumps were made, two of fences and one the new "stonewall." All the riders were the hunting costume of various hunt clubs, among them being the Essex hunt, Richmond County Country, Westchester Country, Chevy Chase of Maryland, and Cameron Run Hunt of Virginia. The first prize was carried off by Imported Wildflower, owned by Charles E. Mather of Philadelphia and ridden by Hubert Mather.

What is probably the chief event interesting society for the week was the contest for four-in-hands, ten of them showing. The leading whips in the country drove, including Alfred G. Vanderbilt, William H. Moore of Chicago, Frank Winterbottom and Maurice Howlett. The final contest was between Vanderbilt and Moore, the latter winning with his four browns, Bugler, Fife, Senator and Foraker.

The contest of hackney stallions, four years old or over, brought out ten of the best hackneys to be found anywhere, forming the finest class of hackney sires that has ever been shown in the United States. The blue ribbon went to the imported horse Moncreiffe Vengeance, a handsome chestnut bred by Sir R. Moncreiffe and imported recently by Alfred A. Haley of Whitewall, Malton, Yorkshire, England. McKinley, a big chestnut owned by Pat Jordan of Boston, came second; White Hackney Fashion, owned by William H. Moore, was third, and Tiger Lily, owned by Reginald Vanderbilt, received the "H. C."

The principal event of tonight was the contest for the Waldorf-Astoria challenge cup to be won by the same owner three times to become his personal property, owners to drive the horses to gigs.

The competition showed that Forest King is still king of hackneys of this country. Judge W. H. Moore won with him against such horses as Alfred Vanderbilt's Rustling Silk, E. D. Jordan's Hildred C., W. Watson's Lord Baltimore and J. H. Moore's Burlingham. This makes the second win for Judge Moore.

APPOINT TAX BOARD

bureau under the control of the commissioners. The only need the commissioners will have for transcribing clerks in the future will be to make out the poll books. The new board has nothing to do with the registration of voters. In the two departments of the commissioners' office, which the board takes over, there are 74 employes with an annual salary list of over $68,000.

The tax board is allowed to appoint such clerks as the salary board will allow. All salaries and expenses will be paid out of the county treasury. The county has a big balance and there will be no trouble finding money for the board. The commissioners have not selected quarters in the court house for the board.

Thomas Livingston Rodgers is about 68 years old and has lived his entire life in this county. His home was in Allegheny until a few years ago when he took up his residence in Baywood street in the Nineteenth ward.

Mr. Rodgers is a son of the Rev. James Rodgers, who founded the Second United Presbyterian church in Allegheny, and was also the founder of the United Presbyterian book rooms. Mr. Rodgers is a brother of William B. Rodgers, city solicitor, and the father of former Judge Elliott Rodgers. Until about eight years ago, when he retired, Mr. Rodgers was connected with the Pittsburgh grain elevator. He was with the concern during the riots of '77, when the property was destroyed. Since his retirement, Mr. Rodgers has frequently been appointed by the courts as a viewer and is familiar with land values throughout the county.

William Hill was born in County Down, Ireland, December 3, 1837. He came to America in 1841 with his parents and located near Carnegie. Until 1876 Mr. Hill was a farmer. He then started in the brick and lumber business in Carnegie. About the same time he was elected a member of the legislature and served until 1879. He was then mercantile appraiser for a year and later served one term as county treasurer. In 1886 he became connected with the Allegheny county workhouse and was superintendent of the prison until a couple of years ago. He is now president of the First National bank of Carnegie.

Edwin Z. Smith was born in Pittsburgh 47 years ago and has lived here all of his life. His present residence is in Craig street, Fourteenth ward. Mr. Smith has been practicing law about 20 years. He was associated with Judge James R. Macfarlane in the practice of law for a number of years. Mr. Smith says his appointment was unsolicited and came to him as a complete surprise.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. E. K. Van Natea, daughter of Brig.-Gen. John T. Wiley, was seriously injured by being thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident late last night. The back of her head was badly cut, one ankle sprained and she was otherwise cut and bruised.

VACANCIES FILLED IN CITY COMMITTEE

Allegheny Executive Board Gets No Word Yet from Councilman Cochrane.

The executive board of the Allegheny City Republican committee met yesterday afternoon in headquarters in East Diamond street. Chairman John H. Henderson presided. It was understood Robert R. Cochrane would be formally asked to accept the nomination for the legislature in the Second district, but this question was not brought up. Cochrane attended the meeting as chairman of the Sixth ward, and said after the meeting: "I was not yet prepared to give an answer, so nothing was said. I will make an announcement later in the week. I cannot say whether or not I will be a candidate."

The belief in Allegheny is that Cochrane will be the candidate for the position left vacant by the resignation of John Francies, who resigned to become postmaster of Allegheny.

A communication was read from George W. Gibson of 110 Chartiers street. The latter informed the city committee that he is a candidate for the legislature in the Second district. He is a member of the Fifth ward school board and has served three terms.

Mr. Cochrane introduced a resolution that was adopted. Its purport is that the proper authorities be asked to issue a writ for a special election in the Second legislative district to fill the vacancy at present existing.

The board filled the following vacancies in the city committee:

Sixth district, Second ward, J. G. Ellison, vice Frank S. Haller; Eighth district, Third ward, William F. Billinger vice George Elmhauser; Tenth district, Third ward, Charles Busha vice Henry Albrecht; Third district, Fifth ward, William McCune vice Harry Williams; Fifth district, Fifth ward, Benjamin Lambert vice Harry Smith; First district, Eighth ward, Louis Hack vice David Gibson; Third district, Ninth ward, George T. Davis vice John A. Smith; Second district, Thirteenth ward, Louis Boister vice Charles Duncan; Fourth district, Thirteenth ward, Frank Kehn vice Henry Vidt; Second district, Fifteenth ward, John Graber vice John Francies; Third district, Fifteenth ward, Gilbert Falen vice James Anderson.

Most of the vacancies were caused by committeemen removing from the districts in which they formerly lived. Several members vacated their positions by accepting federal, state, county or city positions.

HE TOOK OFF THE LID

filled with beer and other drinks with which the women had rewarded the bringer of good news.

Inspector Robinson and Capt. McCabe had gone to the theater to see Houdini escape cells and chains and handcuffs. When they got back to headquarters they were informed of Tucker's escapade and hurried to the First ward. It was dark there again, for the women had obeyed the detectives, except the proprietresses of three so-called fashionable houses. Their places were open yet. They told the inspector they thought Tucker was the official opener, and the detectives were interlopers, and had preferred to believe Tucker. They were ordered to close up, and did so.

The detectives say that Tucker did not have easy sailing in every case. Some of the women were hard to persuade that he had authority, but when he pointed to houses up and down the street that he had opened, and said, "Doesn't that prove I am carrying the orders?" they admitted it looked official, and invited him to to have a drink.

TRAINS COLLIDE, KILLING TWO MEN

Accident in Front of Bessemer Steel Company's Yards Also Injures Two Trainmen.

KILLED FALLING DOWN STAIRS

As the result of a collision between a Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston train of coke cars and a Pennsylvania train in front of the yards of the Bessemer Steel Company in Braddock yesterday morning, two men were killed and two injured.

THE DEAD:

ROBERT J. LOUGHREY of Rodebaugh, Westmoreland county, fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad; crushed and burned.

HARRY P. PARR, aged 27, of Duquesne, flagman for the P., V. & C. railroad; crushed and burned.

THE INJURED:

W. H. BOLES, conductor on the Pennsylvania train; internally injured.

JAMES CROSSLAND, engineer of the Pennsylvania train; scalded by escaping steam.

The coke train was entering the yards near the Union railroad bridge when the Pennsylvania train dashed out of the yards around a curve. They came together with a terrific crash and a dozen cars were piled in a heap. The engine of the Pennsylvania train was in the rear and the engineer was unable to see the approaching train. Officials claim that a mistake was made in allowing the Pennsylvania train to enter upon the tracks before the P., V. & C. train had passed. An investigation is being made.

J. J. Powers, a brakeman, aged 23, died yesterday from injuries received by being struck by a locomotive at the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Pitcairn on Tuesday. Powers lived at Wall.

Angelo Bier, a miner, died yesterday afternoon from injuries received on Monday in the Harrison mines at Beadling. Bier was employed trimming coal cars in the mine. The car was dropped down the track to make room for another, and Bier's head struck a beam.

Jacob Krsmievosoh, aged 35, of 678 Preble avenue, Allegheny, tripped when going down stairs yesterday and broke his neck, dying shortly afterward. Krsmievosoh was a railroad section hand.

Henry Reiber, aged 72, died at his home, 19 Rose street, of heart disease.

Mrs. Hubbard, aged 75, died after a hard day's washing at her home, 170 South Seventeenth street.

working but were unable to give any assistance. With the tipple down and no means of hauling up the men the work of rescuing the bodies was necessarily delayed. The pumping apparatus was completely destroyed by the explosion and the shaft at once began to fill up with water. A new pump was rigged up at 10:30 o'clock tonight, but by that time 10 feet of water had accumulated.

Searchlights cast from the top of the shaft into the depths revealed water and above it a heap of fallen timbers, stone and earth, making immediate rescue impossible without proper means of lowering a large body of men. Work was immediately started on the construction of a temporary derrick and windlass.

After the rescuers entered the mine they found two of the mangled bodies and it is hoped that the others will be brought to the surface soon after daylight.

Pennypacker, not only pledging him their support, but offering to serve without pay during the special session. Senator Oscar E. Thompson and Representatives William Wayne, Franklin Marsh, Fred H. Cope and W. A. P. Thompson compose the Chester county delegation.

Mrs. Mary Turner Kohler Dead.

Mrs. Mary Turner Kohler, aged 58, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Peidel, of 104 North Main street, Sharpsburg. She was born in Austria and lived in Etna from 1887 to 1895. She then returned to Austria, coming again to Sharpsburg in 1901. She was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Sharpsburg. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Peidel and Mrs. Elizabeth Horner of Pittsburgh, and one son, John Kohler of Etna.

Human "Steam"; Keeping It Up

This Is the Secret of That Seemingly Tireless Energy Possessed by Some People.

There is another kind of steam than that in which the boy James Watt, watching his mother's tea kettle, first saw the great possibilities that long since have become realities.

This other kind of steam is human "steam." And it is a most important factor in our affairs.

Some people call this human "steam" by other names. They call it "push" sometimes, or "hustle," or "get-up," or "life." Well, it's all of these, but after all it's just "steam." It's the power to do things—a seemingly tireless power some people possess.

You can call to your mind right this minute some men and women, boys and girls, perhaps, who always go about their work or play "with full steam up." They can accomplish more and do things better than other people. It's their "steam" that gives them increased power.

Malta-Vita, the perfect malted wheat food, fills men and women and children with the power to do things. It makes them strong in body and mind. It keeps up their "steam."

When Malta-Vita comes from the ovens, every flake baked crisp and brown, it is the most delicious and most healthful food in the world, containing only one per cent of moisture. The other 99 per cent is nutrition. And all this nutrition is digested most readily, even by the weakest stomach, because the gelatinized starch of the thoroughly cooked wheat has been converted by fine malt extract into maltose, or malt sugar.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat! There's no other food like it; none "just as good;" none that can take its place. Sold by all grocers, 10 cents per package.

DISCUSSING UNION OF ALL CHURCHES

Great Inter-Church Conference Opens Its Sessions in New York.

UNITARIAN ONLY ONE BARRED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM J. H. RALSTON, Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The inter-church conference which has for its object the formation of a federation on the basis of co-operation in work and effort and not on a basis of credal statement, opened tonight under most favorable auspices. While there have been many union movements among evangelist denominations for associated Christian service, such as the American Bible and Tract societies, yet never before has there been a conference of delegates officially chosen for such a specific object. No one can forecast the certain issue of this conference, but all probabilities indicate that before the close nearly 30 denominations embracing 20,000,000 members will be federated.

The conference embraces the leading Protestant denominations which are known as evangelical, emphasizing the authority of the scriptures and the divine personality of Christ. It was believed by the committee in charge of arrangements that the only prominent Protestant denomination which will not be represented is the Unitarians. The governing body of that church, supposing that it had been intended to invite it to take part, some time ago appointed delegates, but they were informed that the conference was intended to include only evangelical churches. The executive committee of the conference was unanimous in making the decision, which was on the ground that many other denominations would not consent to a conference in which the Unitarians took part. This matter may be considered at length during the series of meetings, which will continue one week.

The meeting this evening took the form of addresses of welcome and greeting, the governments of the city of New York and of the United States being represented. Seven different denominations were represented on the program, indicating the inter-denominational character of the service. Among the speakers was the Rev. C. L. Thompson, D. D., some years ago pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, who spoke on behalf of the National Federation of Churches and Christian Workers. He said the result of the federation might be a great readjustment of denominational lines now little dreamed of.

Pittsburgh has sent a number of delegates and visitors, among which are the Rev. F. W. Sneed, D. D.; the Rev. J. Kinsey Smith, D. D.; the Rev. C. W. Smith, D. D.; the Rev. J. H. Prugh, D. D.; the Rev. M. L. Jennings, D. D.; the Rev. John McNaughler, D. D.; the Rev. Thomas Watters, D. D.; the Rev. W. C. Partridge, D. D.; Chancellor S. B. BATTLING FOR HER CHILD.

Mrs. Nagle Sues to Establish Her Claim as a Wife—Is Defendant for Stealing the Husband.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Agnes D. Nagle, wife of Theodore M. Nagle, the Erie millionaire, has instructed her attorneys in this city to prepare for two great legal battles—one in which her own character is assailed, and one in which the legitimacy of her child is involved.

In a common pleas suit Mrs. Alberta H. Lyon of East Orange, N. J., is asking for heavy damages against Mrs. Nagle on the ground that she alienated the affections of Frank W. Lyon at Atlantic City in July, 1900.

AUTO FRACTURES NOW.

Most Fashionable Broken Bone Is Received When the Crank Slips and You Say ——.

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Dr. Stern of Cleveland addressing the session of the Union Medical association of the Sixth Councilor district discovered a new fracture. It is the "automobile fracture."

He was discussing a paper read by Dr. S. P. Wise of Millersburg, on "Some Points on Colles Fractures." After he had finished his paper Dr. Stern of Cleveland spoke on the variety of Colles fracture. It is caused by the crank slipping and striking the wrist of the operator.

AND "BILL" JUST LAUGHED WHEN ASKED ABOUT OHIO

Idea of Making Secretary Taft the Leader of Ohio Republicans Touches His Funny Bone.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—"Ha, ha," the 300 and odd pounds of Secretary Taft's avoirdupois shook like a glass of jelly, when the suggestion was made to him today that he should go out to Ohio and assume the leadership of the Republican party. Evidently he considered it the joke of the season. Of course, having wiped his old enemy, the Cox organization, off the face of the map, he was in a position to be jolly, but the suggestion that he take the leadership set him off into a fit of laughter.

"The suggestion has been made, Mr. Secretary, that it is incumbent upon you to take the lead in the reorganization of the party in Ohio," said the correspondent.

"Great idea, great idea," replied the secretary, and he laughed some more. "I suppose I ought to go out there and yell, 'I'm the leader! I'm the leader!' That's what they mean, is it?"

When pressed for a serious answer to the suggestion, he said:

"I am too busy here to take part in the reorganization of the party, even if I thought it was necessary. I am no politician. I have no taste for that sort of thing."

The secretary had nothing further to add regarding the result in Ohio, beyond what he embodied in the statement he made at Old Point Comfort yesterday.

ISLE OF PINES KNOWS OF NO DISTURBANCES

Little Island Which Is Making Trouble for State Department Is Tranquil.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Cuban minister has received the following cablegram from the secretary of state of Cuba, Senor O'Farrill:

"The news as to coup d'etat absolutely false; complete tranquility in all the island. There is no fear of public order being disturbed."

The minister called at the state department today, and seemed to be considerably agitated over the news of the movement in the Isle of Pines, to oppose the formal transfer of the island to Cuba. He had an interview on the subject with Secretary Root, but declined to make any statement concerning it.

It can be said that the would-be seceders will receive no encouragement from the administration. Secretary of State Root, when he was secretary of war was very clear and emphatic on the point that the Isle of Pines belonged to Cuba. The reported secession of the residents from Cuban control is deprecated vigorously, but action regarding it, if any should be contemplated, would be taken only after the government has been advised officially and fully as to the situation.

HOW P. RUANE WAS HURT NO ONE SEEMS TO KNOW

Man Dies of Injuries, Yet Police Were Not Notified When He Was Found Unconscious.

Patrick Ruane died last night from injuries received on last Saturday. No one seemed to be able to tell the coroner's deputies how Ruane was hurt, whether he fell or was struck. County Detectives O'Brien and Englert were put on the case.

From the proprietor of the Hotel Buckley, Deputy Coroner Hugh Dempsey learned that Ruane was found in Miller's alley, near Rebecca street, on Saturday night, unconscious. He was taken to the hotel and Dr. Thomas Walsh was called in to attend him. On Monday the doctor advised that Ruane be taken to the hospital. A carriage was procured, and Martin Lacey went with Ruane.

The case seemed mysterious. The Allegheny police had not been notified and knew nothing of the affair when asked about it by Dempsey. As soon as the facts were learned the two county detectives went out on the case.

OPTION IS ASSURED.

LaBelle Iron Works Stockholders Deposit Their Shares at Authorized Institutions.

It is practically assured now that the proposition for an option on the property of the LaBelle Iron Works will be accepted. Up to yesterday there had been deposited with the authorized institutions 65 per cent of the company's stock. Only 60 per cent was required to make the option good.

It was rumored last evening that the plan would be carried to its conclusion at a meeting in Pittsburgh today.

Want National Pure Food Law.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A joint committee, representing the state food commission, the Consumers' league and the National Federation of Women's clubs, today called on Secretary Wilson and filed papers petitioning the President to recommend the passage of a law to control the interstate shipment of adulterated and misbranded foods and drugs in his coming message to congress.

MITCHELL WILL NEVER FAVOR ANOTHER CUT

President of United Mine Workers Urges Carnegie Workmen to Study Unceasingly.

President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, accompanied by R. Ryan, delegate from Illinois, and Clerk of Courts-Elect William Dodds, addressed a meeting of miners in Star hall, Carnegie, last night. Mr. Dodds acted as chairman. President Mitchell and Mr. Ryan were given great ovations. Mr. Ryan said the miners in Illinois are more prosperous than ever before, having $800,000 in the state treasury. He said there were but two mines in Illinois working under non-union wages.

President Mitchell urged the miners to attend the union meetings and to secure all the good literature possible, and to study labor and economic conditions unceasingly. The most pertinent statement that he made was that he would never again sanction a cut in the miners' wages. He said that not only the miners suffered by the cut, but that the operators received smaller profits under a low wage scale. In closing Mr. Mitchell urged each miner to thoroughly appreciate the value of a vote, and to always take interest in elections, selecting the candidate who would represent them best.

ANGELUS PIANO, As Played the New Way.

The Coming of the Now Famous

ANGELUS PIANO, As Played the Old Way.

Angelus Piano

means much to music lovers. The owner of any Angelus Piano has not only secured a fine piano, but also the means of playing it.

The piano itself is a fine instrument of high artistic value. It contains a concealed Angelus Piano Player of exactly the same simple and effective character as the regular Angelus, which has become so great a favor in Pittsburgh's finest homes. With all the advantages which the Angelus Piano has to offer is it any wonder that people having pianos of fine quality which they could not play were glad to exchange them in part payment for an Angelus Piano, which anyone can play?

The character of these pianos, which have come to us in exchange, has been surprising, many of them being almost new. All of them are in good condition. We are obliged to offer them at forced sale because of the pressing need for room for arriving holiday goods.

This sale, therefore, constitutes an unusual opportunity for economical purchasers.

Monthly payments may be arranged if desired.

Among the uprights are pianos by A. B. CHASE, FISCHER, VOSE, SCHUMANN, HAMIL-TONE, SMITH & BARNES, KEANICH & BACH, EMERSON, STERLING, KNABE, CHICKERING, BRAUMULLER, EBERHART, BECKER BROS., KURTZMANN, MERRILL, C. H. STONE, STULTZ & BAUER, and others at prices as low as

$60.00, $68.00, $95.00, $120.00

and upward.

Used Grand Pianos

such as CHICKERING, SOHMER, VOSE, FISCHER and A. B. CHASE, at

Thursday, November 16, 1905.

The cry for tariff revision at the coming session of congress will not down. Yesterday a committee from a dozen cities, representing the shoe manufacturing industry, called at the White House to urge the President's influence on desired action. The demand for a revision of the tariff by its friends is not sectional. Yesterday's call on the President is significant of the strong feeling throughout the country on this subject.

In submitting a list of questions touching their personal financial condition to the employes of his department, the secretary of the treasury is evidently planning a blow at the money sharks who infest the capital and loan to government clerks at ruinous rates of interest. This evil, which was proceeded against some time ago, is said to be increasing again. Many of the offenders are themselves department employes, which should render the rooting out of the practice an easier matter.

According to the report made to Secretary Root yesterday by the Chinese minister, the killing of the American missionaries at Lienchow had no connection whatever with the boycott movement. The seizure by a missionary of consecrated objects from the altar at a Chinese festival precipitated a riot in which five Americans lost their lives. The penalty for interference was extreme, but the Americans were undeniably meddlesome. The viceroy of Canton promises to punish the murderers.

By this time the czar must be a firm believer in the old proverb that it never rains moderately. With far-off Vladivostok the scene of incendiarism and murderous riot, the town threatened with famine and a general state of anarchy prevailing, the situation at home again becomes ominous with the declaration of another general political strike. It is ordered by the most extreme and violent of the revolutionists and, as before, an attempt will be made to tie up all the railroads in the country. What would not the czar give for a single day of peace?

While District Attorney Jerome filed his certificate with the proper authorities in New York, declaring that his re-election had not cost him one cent, and that he had spent nothing directly or indirectly in aid of his election, it does not follow that no money was spent in his behalf. Large sums were expended by the advocates of his cause, but only for such expenses as are legitimate outlays. There was no corruption fund, as against that of Tammany. The "no personal expense" return of Mr. Jerome is therefore eloquent, in its way, of the purity of his campaign and the triumph of a principle over boodle and organized loot.

The announcement that it has been found necessary to discontinue the examinations started on Monday for the night courses in the Carnegie Technical schools, because more than three times the number of students that can be accommodated have already been examined, is significant of the wide field of usefulness before this branch of the great institution. The night school has a peculiarly beneficent mission, for its pupils are those who work by day for their support. It is assuring to know that building operations are to be prosecuted vigorously, but a long time will elapse before all the eager applicants who qualify for instruction can be admitted.

It seems that Senator Burton of Kansas may eventually escape the penalty of his misdeeds. The grand jury of the United States district court has indicted him, but his counsel has filed a demurrer with numerous specifications, alleging failure on the part of the government to cite the indictable actions on the part of the accused with the proper explicitness. The claims of the defense are wholly specious and technical. It is altogether likely that Senator Burton will go free of legal punishment. In the event of the demurrer being sustained, he will be acquitted, as the statute of limitations in reference to his case causes the time during which he may be tried to expire on Saturday. No other indictment may be returned after that date. These facts suggest the comment that if Senator Burton is innocent he would better have sought vindication of his honor by trial in court than to gain questionable acquittal through technicalities.

This morning at Canton there will be impressive ceremonies incident to the laying of the corner stone of the McKinley monument under the auspices of the McKinley National Memorial association. There will be a gathering of distinguished men, and there will be oratory of a reminiscent and laudatory character, but no more eloquent tribute to the memory of the late president will be paid than the love and affection he still retains in the hearts of the people. It is distinctly the monument of the people, the money for the purpose having been furnished by all classes and conditions in sums never extravagant, but mostly in coins of modest denomination. The school children of the country were the largest contributors in point of numbers, and it is essentially a gift of their patriotism. No large individual subscription assured its completion, and while the memorial is located in Canton, it belongs to the whole country.

Automobile Offenders.

Pittsburgh's police should give serious attention to the law-breakers in automobiles who make pedestrianism dangerous on streets of the East End. Passengers on a Center and Negley car yesterday afternoon witnessed an exciting race between a pair of automobiles which were flying at express train speed. The street car was soon left behind. This is by no means an isolated instance. In many cases the offenders are not the owners of the automobiles, but irresponsible chauffeurs out for a spin and eager to test the mettle of their machines. Indignant observers of their speed contests yesterday attempted to ascertain the ownership of the machines by the numbers and found the discerning of them an impossibility. When an automobile is flying along at 30 or more miles an hour the swaying and partially concealed number defies detection. The practical plan is to pursue the offenders with an equally speedy machine and cause their arrest and punishment.

In several cities representatives of automobile clubs have volunteered for detective work to apprehend those who are bringing the pastime into disrepute. It is work the police should do. There is a speed limit beyond which the automobile cannot go on city streets without real risk to those who walk. When this limit is exceeded prompt punishment should be meted out to offenders. The evil appears to be increasing in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Hyde's Testimony.

In reading the testimony of James H. Hyde before New York's legislative committee one cannot help wondering why so many statements are received from a witness which not only would not be admitted as legal evidence in a court of justice, but which from the evident animus and bitter undercurrent of feeling which inspires them, are calculated to cloud the important matters the committee desires to illuminate. In his reckless charges against men of established reputation for probity in business dealings young Mr. Hyde evidences that immaturity of judgment which led to his own deposition from a position of responsibility and for which his unfitness had long been matter of comment. If Mr. Frick really suggested the appointment of Mr. Hyde as ambassador to France, the older man's friendship for the younger man and desire for his advancement doubtless closed his eyes to some of the more glaring deficiencies in the character of his candidate. In the light of later events Mr. Hyde's utter lack of capacity for any such distinguished position of trust is obvious.

The "Frick report" on the condition of the Equitable Life Assurance society, which seems to have been the chief cause for Mr. Hyde's animosity toward Mr. Frick, was an impartial, conscientious, forcible statement of facts not entirely creditable to Mr. Hyde, but the presentation of which was a distinct public service. Mr. Frick, we learn from Mr. Hyde, "endeavored to dominate the entire society." A man of Mr. Frick's personality is not accustomed to occupy a back seat when his imperative duty is at the front. The most charitable view to take of James H. Hyde is that he is a very young man who has had his hour under the limelight and has endeavored to make the most of it. His testimony has not changed the public's estimate of his caliber.

In Defense of the Housewife.

The housewife who has the handling of the family pocketbook and who finds it impossible to make the money go as far as in former years, may or may not have been called upon by the head of the house to defend her reputation as a good manager. If she has had any difficulty in this respect, she may call in official statistics to support her contention that it costs more to live now than ever before.

Dun's Index Number, which is accepted by the national government as an authority and has been quoted as such for two-score years, now stands at $103.853. Four months ago it stood at $98.312, and in July, 1897, at $72.455. This Index Number embraces several hundred prices of commodities proportioned to consumption, and includes breadstuffs, meats, all other foodstuffs, clothing, metals, and miscellaneous articles necessary to the life and comfort of the average man or woman. To make the figures clearer to the non-expert in statistics, it might be said that it now requires nearly $1.04 to buy the same amount and kind of commodities which four months ago could have been bought for about 98 cents, or which in July, 1897, could have been bought for about 72½ cents. The increased cost the past month, amounting to about 3½ cents on the dollar, occurred almost exclusively in articles of food, whereas the rise for the year was mainly in articles of clothing and metals.

Of course there is an explanation for this increased cost of living. The patient gentlemen who make a business of collecting statistics on the subject tell us that there are fewer persons unemployed at the present time than ever before in the country's history. The amount of money dispersed in wages is larger. The natural result is a larger demand for articles of necessity and luxury, and this increased demand has an effect upon prices. No one would choose to return to the conditions prevailing in 1896 and 1897, when a dollar bought more food and clothing than ever before or since, because during that period the problem was first to get the dollar; but the facts are as stated, and the housewife may fortify her personal experience with official statistics.

A Latin-Slavic League.

From Paris comes a marked copy of the Figaro telling of the general convention of the Latin-Slavic league, which took place in October. It appears that a gentleman by the name of A. de Tcherep-Spiridovitch, whose manly bosom is almost hidden by innumerable stars and medals, is the president and secretary of the league, and was also the principal orator at the convention. His speech, as he himself declared, was hurled at "the insurmountable wall of a bellicose and oppressive Pangermanism," and the principal object of the league, as outlined in its constitution, is the "perpetuation of the Franco-Russian alliance." Incidentally Polish autonomy and The Hague tribunal are also included in the league's far-reaching program of political beneficence.

It has seemed strange to many observers of political phenomena that the Russian autocracy and the French republic should pull together in the European concert of powers. International politics make strange bedfellows, no doubt, but radicalism and absolutism would seem incompatible. M. Spiridovitch's remarks, however, reveal the true complexion of affairs as keen-witted diplomats have understood it from the first. It is not any real affinity that draws Russia and France together, but a common fear and a common hatred of their powerful neighbor, the German empire. M. Spiridovitch even grows wrathy about a German school geography in which Germany, Austria, Switzerland, part of Poland, Belgium and Holland are shown on the same map.

While it is doubtful whether the league will exert any great influence, it is an interesting phenomenon. Among the delegates there was even a representative of the chiefs of Arab tribes, who would seem somewhat out of place among Latin-Slavic chauvinists. The truth is that the Franco-Russian alliance has been based upon a very unstable foundation of political expediency rather than racial sympathy. The czar's government has dealt as harshly with Poland as the kaiser's. The Latin nations look askance at the anti-clerical bureaucracy of France. It is only the politicians, who need a counterbalance for the triple alliance, and the moneyed men, who have invested heavily in Russian securities, that are interested in France's remaining Russia's ally. And Russia is interested in France only so far as France will act as a counterbalance to British power. Between these divided and doubtful motives the kaiser can do pretty nearly as he likes, and need not worry much about M. Spiridovitch's league.

A Boston friend says the only way John L. Sullivan can get his name in the papers any more is by getting drunk. Time was when John's sobriety was a sensational news item.

A Plague of "Panhandlers."

There are a number of booze-hunters in Oil City and Franklin who know the dates of railroad pay days as well as the employes, and the advent of that day finds them industriously circulating from one bar room to another, begging drinks from the railroaders, some of whom are notably prodigal with their pay. Franklin adopted strenuous measures against its large crops of "panhandlers" some years ago, and such members of the cult as can beg or borrow street car fare, or bum their way into Oil City on a freight, make it a point to get here when the railroad men are paid and hang to every man who looks easy enough to give them a dime or quarter or buy them a drink.—Oil City Derrick.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Too Much Fuss and Farce and Not Enough Practical Work.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

From the fuss made by educators one would think the hosts of ignorance and vice would be put to flight in short order, surely within the time of a single generation.

But this same fussing has been going on for several generations and the aforesaid hosts are still caverting up and down the land, and the people are being more and more heavily taxed to build jails, maintain courts of law and pay for the board and keep of bad and improvident people.

How much longer is this state of affairs going to continue?

To what are we to turn when school and church fail to make men and women what they ought to be?

Have you ever asked who is to blame for the moral and intellectual degredation prevalent in this great and grand country?

What has been the answer, or what answer are you prepared to give?

What answers are given by preachers and teachers and those who champion the twin causes of religion and education?

Singularly enough we don't hear many answers from those whom we have a right to expect them. Is it because they cannot make answer, or is it because they are only fussing, or only half in earnest?

Those who have long been watching and waiting for the coming of the good times prondsed by educators and religionists are becoming more or less doubtful as to their ability to produce the goods.

Leading divines and educators are disposed to place the blame on the preachers and laymen and on teachers and parents.

Where do you say it belongs?

The more thoughtful public is becoming more and more impressed with the notion that much of the grand-stand play made by preachers and teachers is a farce, and nothing more, not even good comedy.

The idea that good men can be made out of bad ones is nonsensical, or so it seems to the more thoughtful and philosophical, and yet preachers go on laboring with a view to changing grown, mature sinners into veritable saints.

Haven't these learned that as the boy is so will be the man? This is not taught in theological schools and seminaries, but it ought to be, for it is of more importance than some, if not many, of the dogmas upon which much time and effort are wasted.

Original sin, as found in the average boy, has to be cast out by education, training, and environment, and not by atonement, vicarious or otherwise.

Never was a normal boy so bad but that he could be developed into a reasonably good man by a rational course of training.

Educators act as though they believed that original sin can be knocked out of a normal boy with mathematics, grammar and psychology.

Not so; at least it seems that original sin thrives on this sort of diet.

How do you combat the original sin in your own boys, or in the boys committed to your care and training?

How do preachers propose to deal with that particular brand of original sin only to be found in normal boys?

Our fathers used hickory oil, strap lightning, and like remedies. These are not fashionable now, and the boys show it.

Boys and girls grow into men and women carrying with them the germs of things. These germs develop and grow into their lives, so that when they have become men and women they are what the germs have made them.

Were boys and girls educated and trained as they ought, and as they may be, they would enter upon practical life with almost entire assurance of success.

Mr. Quiet Observer—Not long ago, in your most interesting column, I expressed my earnest convictions on why marriage is a failure. May I speak again? In a recent paper "One of the Boys" expressed himself to the effect that he would prefer a home to a boarding house were it not for the effort he must make to find a suitable companion.

Let me say kindly to that "Boy" that nothing worth having was ever won without effort. He has found a number of attractive women but they were looking for moneyed husbands.

Now I am sure he is not located in the right place. Why does he not take up his abode elsewhere? Were he to do so he surely would find a good woman, one willing to share his lot and do her part in making the home complete.

For every Jack there is a Jill, but my friend, Jill will not be won without effort.

He has a friend who married a college girl and who was a hopeless failure in the home, but all women are not the same and all women are not college-bred, yet good and true hearts beat in their breasts whether educated or not. In some of the most perfect homes, neither husband nor wife are highly educated, yet their home life is one round of pleasure and happiness. He declares he has hopes of a home at some future date, because one of his friends married and is happily situated. It is needless to say I feel a great interest in the person who hopes for better things, likewise in this young man.

On the other hand, "One of the Girls" declared that there were plenty of good marriageable women, willing to marry the right man. She also states that she would not be willing to marry a man who could not support her in the same manner as she lived at home.

Did she stop to consider that father married and began housekeeping in a very humble manner, limited means, no doubt, and through the effort of both husband and wife, attained their present condition?

No, indeed! And furthermore she declares that she would not do the work of a servant and thereby become a drudge.

How about the husband who must toil from morn until night to earn a livelihood for himself and wife? Does he ever complain of being a drudge?

I consider the home duties of the wife no harder than the outside duties of the husband. Both must do their part and the home will be pleasant and happy.

Let me say to the "Boys and Girls" that there are hosts of happy homes in America, and many more willing people who are worthy of good homes.

Of Special Interest, Just Now.

The following brief dispatch from United States Consul Ifft of Chatham, Ontario, has especial interest at this time: "With the approach of Thanksgiving day it will perhaps be of interest to note that turkeys are plentiful in western Ontario this year. One poultry dealer at London, Ontario, expects to ship 150,000 birds to New York, Vancouver and England, and, although the season is still young, reports that he is now shipping 1,000 a day. Poultry buyers all through the peninsula are now offering 10 cents a pound, and securing an abundant supply."

Witte's Great Discovery.

Count Witte has discovered that among the causes of disorder in Russia are the efforts of administrative officers of the old regime. These men have in some cases done what they could to inflame the people against one another in the hope of thus discrediting the ability of the people for self-government. Count Witte doubtless knows what should be done with these reactionaries at the first opportunity.—Columbus Dispatch.

MISS ROOSEVELT SENT HER REGRETS

President's Daughter Did Not Attend the Ball on Board the Flagship "Drake."

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Why did Miss Alice Roosevelt cancel all her social engagements with Prince Louis and suddenly leave for Boston? This is the social problem which is puzzling New York society today. Last night the President's daughter was expected to be among the notables at the ball on board the Drake, but early in the day she sent her regrets and set out for Beacon street, Boston, to visit her grandmother, Mrs. Lee.

Although Miss Roosevelt was in attendance at the horse show Monday afternoon, she did not attend in the evening when it had been announced that she would appear with Prince Louis and his party. She was also expected to attend Mrs. Astor's party at Rhinebeck today, and had accepted an invitation to sit at the same table with the prince at the state dinner at Mrs. Astor's, at 840 Fifth avenue, Friday night.

Her absence Monday night did not attract particular notice, but her failure to attend the ball on the Drake, the really smart event of the week, has caused much comment. Many of the guests last night lingered late, in hopes of catching a glimpse of Miss Alice, but they were disappointed. A relative of the President's daughter said Miss Alice was tired out with social functions, and had gone to her grandmother's to recuperate.

Graf Waldersee Gets Off at Last.

With a defiant snort of her whistles and a churning of her propellers, the big liner Graf Waldersee of the Hamburg-American line made a third and successful effort to start across the ocean at 7 o'clock today. She pulled from her pier in Hoboken, with machinery and everything in perfect working order, and the chances are that she will now proceed without further accident. The Waldersee had been delayed since Saturday morning at 6 o'clock, when she stuck her nose in the mud banks off Bay Ridge. So well have the many passengers on the liner been treated that they were in cheerful mood when the boat at last made for the open sea.

Delegate from Texas Causes Trouble.

To the delight of an army of schoolboys and the consternation of two policemen, a wild steer from the west went on a rampage today on Eighth avenue, between Forty-third and Fifty-fifth street. Bicycle Policeman John Gerdeman, attached to the traffic squad, was the first policeman to encounter the animal, and as a result of his encounter he received a black eye, numerous contusions and abrasions about the body and wholesome regard for loose steers. Numerous policemen had their troubles before the steer was corralled.

Prince Finds Something Good.

"I have been saving my teeth to come to an American dentist, as I have heard they are so good." This statement was made today by Prince Louis of Battenburg, admiral of the English cruiser squadron immediately after breakfast. Prince Louis appeared from his quarters shortly after 11 o'clock. He announced that he had an engagement with a dentist in West Thirty-ninth street, and would remain there until about 1 o'clock.

Not So Many Rides in Subway.

Earnings of the subway for the September quarter, made public today, showed a decrease of $248,251 compared with the June quarter, and a loss of $375,496, compared with March, the first full quarter published by the company. The statement published today indicated a loss of 5,000,000 passengers compared with the June quarter, and 7,000,000 passengers compared with the March quarter. Compared with the June quarter the three months ending September 30, showed a decrease of $199,000 in net and $276,000 in the surplus after fixed charges.

Moving Whole Row of Houses.

Over in Brooklyn five brownstone houses are on the move. They are moving a dozen feet a day, and sometime within the next 20 days will have reached their destination, 200 feet from where they started on their travels. The five houses are in one row. There were six when the first start was made, just east of the Thirteenth Regiment armory, in Jefferson avenue, between Lewis and Sumner avenues, Brooklyn. One of the houses tumbled, and then the five were lashed securely together, raised by means of jack screws and started on their journey for the other side of the avenue.

Of Course He Likes Our Plays.

Henry Arthur Jones, the English playwright, returned to England this morning on the Baltic. Before the ship left its pier he said: "I see the hope for a national theater here, and the revival of the legitimate drama. You are further advanced in this respect than we are in England. The proportion of vital drama is far greater than it is in England. We are litterly swamped by "tomfoolery."

Lecture Hall on Shipboard.

In the effort to secure halls for lecture centers the Public Lecture bureau of the board of education has been forced to adopt novel places, but the most interesting of these opened this evening, when lectures were begun on board the nautical school ship St. Marys, which has been moored at the foot of East Twenty-third street alongside the Recreation pier. Here every Wednesday evening during the winter lectures will be given. All lectures will be illustrated.

THE IMPORTANCE OF TRADE OF SHANGHAI

The Great Commercial Possibilities That Lie at the Door of That City.

Consul General Rodgers of Shanghai, furnishes to the state department a very intelligent description of that prominent Chinese port, and the surrounding country, and directs attention to the commercial development that may be looked for in the near future. "As at present constituted," writes Mr. Rodgers, "Shanghai consists of a native city with a population of perhaps 700,000, according to latest opinions, and international settlements which contain fully 200,000 people, of whom approximately 15,000 are foreigners of all nationalities. This population is constantly increasing, owing to the advantages offered as a place of residence, and it is certainly safe to say that in 10 years the city as a whole will contain at least 1,500,000 people, the ratio of increase of foreigners being about the same as that of the Chinese. It is easy to understand why Shanghai is developing into a great city. Round about are the great Chinese centers of Soochow, Hangchow, Ningpo, Fuchau, Wuhu, Chinkiang and Nanking, with their fertile tributary areas and their industries of various kinds. The great Yangtse delta country, productive to a high degree, is backed by the Yangtse valley stretching to a thousand miles inland, having populous and rich cities lying in a country of undeveloped richness according to modern ideas.

Importance of Shanghai.

"The trade and commerce of this great region, with a population estimated from 125,000,000 to 175,000,000, must filter through Shanghai, leaving its effect in ever increasing volume. With such resources at home there could not fail to be results, but in addition Shanghai has the advantage of being the natural port for middle China. Here, in the trade of the ocean traffic call the ships from Japan and from the occident. Here the cargo from the north is transshipped and from here it goes to the coast cities, to Manchurian ports, and to Korea. Up the Yangtse is sent the world's product, and each year the consumption grows greater. With the improvement of the Whangpoo river and the Yangtse bar will ensue a rush of commerce here which will make present day affairs small. The dredging operations to provide this improvement will begin soon, and then Shanghai as a deep-water port will soon be an actuality.

Our Principal Competitors.

"The principal competitors of the United States in the Shanghai trade are naturally England, Germany, France and Japan. A comparison of the trade of Shanghai in 1904 with the great nations will be applicable. Allowing Great Britain and her colonies all the importations from Hongkong (25 per cent of the total given below), which is entirely beyond propriety, for a large amount of American product is transhipped there and is classed afterwards as English shipments, the figures are $85,683,691 gold. Those for the continent of Europe, including value of shipments from Russia in Asia, are $18,225,888. Those for Japan and Formosa are $20,310,821, and for the United States, the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands, $19,032,216.

"In exports, under the same classification of countries and under the same conditions as to Hongkong, Europe took to the value of $21,826,140 gold; Japan, $32,295,951; the United States, $18,885,361, and Great Britain, $13,207,444, of which more than half was sent to Hongkong for transshipment. It should be understood that all these figures are somewhat approximate, since the official records do not yet afford accurate results.

Result of Boycott.

"It is undoubtedly true that American trade with Shanghai had before the boycott only two great competitors—Great Britain and Japan—and with neither did her importations and expertations vitally conflict. But all the nations are now doing their utmost to attract the attention of the Chinese, to increase their influence, and to obtain a stronger foothold. Aside from the long-established prestige of Great Britain, there is the every-day effort to maintain and increase the respect paid to the English. Germany, not content with her fine consular establishment and system, is constantly endeavoring to perfect her conditions in the outports; France, with her large concession in Shanghai and its able government, is improving her foothold in important places, and Japan, with her agents broadcast, is taking advantage of every opportunity. In Hankow is best seen the evidences of the aggressive tactics of our competitors, and the increase of their merchant marine seen in Shanghai is the logical consequence."

One as Impossible as Other.

Prince Louis of Battenberg explains that he was not quite correctly quoted when he was reported to have expressed himself as impressed by New York's danger of destruction by a hostile fleet. What he meant, he says, is that a war would hurt New York's commerce greatly. "A war at your doors would tie it all up. Your houses might stand, but there would be no business in them." But a blockade of the port of New York is but a little less impossible than an attack upon the city by a hostile fleet.—New York Journal.

Hints to Football Players.

The game of football is, from its very nature, a rough one, requiring strenuous exertion and a certain aggressiveness, but it should be kept within reasonable bounds and not be carried to the extent to which its tendency can be discovered in the less refined players, where personal injury is sometimes purposely inflicted in order to secure a victory. This should be frowned upon by all honorable participants in the game. As to the roughness which comes from excess of virility with no sinister motive, there is equal need of restraint.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Not Black Diamonds Either.

The price of diamonds has made another advance of 5 per cent. It is feared that we are going to have a hard, cruel winter.—Cleveland Leader.

None Too Soon.

The Pennsylvania railroad is looking ahead and none too soon, by planting trees for its coming tie needs.—Connellsville Courier.

OLD STORY IN RHYME.

When mother's sick the house is all
So strangely hushed in room and hall!
But mother never will admit
She's suffering a single bit!
She won't let people do a thing—
There's nothing anyone can bring—
She just lies there and tries to fix
Herself by cunning little tricks!
And as for doctor—why, the word
She scouts as being most absurd.
And when he comes he has to guess
At symptoms that she won't confess;
And then he's apt to frown and say:
"You should have had me right away.
I'll come again this evening"—for
It's bed, you see, a week or more!
When father's sick, I tell you, now
You ought to hear the dreadful row!
The talk of "dying," and the groans!
The orders in convulsive tones!
The hasty runnings to and fro,
To rearrange the pillow—so;
To fix hot-water bag and shade;
For mustard plaster, lemonade!
Appeals to get the doctor, quick—
And "Can't you see I'm awful sick?"
And then the doctor sits and hears
While father grunts his pains and fears,
He leaves some drops, and tells us:
"Hum!
Unless I'm needed I shan't come
Again. I think he'll do all right."
And father's up perhaps, by night!

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

George B. Cortelyou, postmaster general of the United States, passed through Pittsburgh last night on his way to Chicago. His coming had not been heralded and his presence here was known only to the railroad officers, who possessed the knowledge through the movement of the private Pullman car in which he was traveling. The object of his trip to Chicago was not known. He came into the city at 7:05 o'clock and left at 8 o'clock. Mr. Cortelyou has made many trips through the city, having accompanied President McKinley on almost every trip the latter made between Washington and Canton. Since becoming a cabinet officer, however, his visits have not been so frequent.

Congressman H. K. Porter of Pittsburgh went to New York on the Pennsylvania on a business mission.

Presidential Chances Gone.

Mayor McClellan has been re-elected and Mr. Hearst defeated. In one sense the victor is the loser and the defeated candidate is the one who has occasion to congratulate himself. The presidential possibilities of Mayor McClellan have melted into thin air. The man who can barely carry his own city with the solid support of Tammany, against an impromptu candidate, the leader of motley and unorganized forces, is not the man whom a national party will select as its standard bearer.—Chicago Tribune.

Faith and Practice.

With Andrew Carnegie faith and practice seem to go hand in hand. He wrote to a member of the New York relief committee, "Do not be discouraged. Under the law of evolution we must march upward steadily, though slowly, and finally reach the true conception of the brotherhood of man." More practical evidence of his belief than the check for ten thousand dollars which he inclosed in his letter could hardly be desired.—Baltimore American.

NOT SELECTED, MR. MOORE SAYS

Director of Public Safety Expects to Consult Mayor Today on Police Headship.

THREE SATELLITES SEE HAYS

The next superintendent of police will be a man already in the service of the department of public safety, declared Director Moore yesterday. Even while thus limiting the choice, the director allows himself and Mayor Hays wide latitude in making a selection, for the department includes many bureaus.

However, a further delimitation of the qualities of a new superintendent of police made by the director would indicate that up to the time he went to his office at 5:30 p. m. it had practically been decided that the new appointee is to be a member of either the police or the detective bureaus.

"The new superintendent," said the director, "must be a man who has ability, who will add dignity to the office and who must have had police experience. I will not say that the appointee will be taken from either the bureaus of police or the bureau of detectives, but I will admit that we are thinking of a man employed in the public safety department. You understand that both the police and detective bureaus come under that head. We do not care what the man's politics may be; ability and fitness will be considered above all things."

Decision Not Yet Reached.

The director was asked if the appointment had been decided upon.

"No," he answered; "I have been very busy all day with routine duties and have not had an opportunity to see the mayor. I expect to see him tomorrow about this very matter."

More names besides that of Detective Cecil G. Rice were suggested yesterday. Roger O'Mara, who thinks he exercises a "fatherly supervision" over the police bureau, said the superintendent ought to be taken from the force. In conversation Roger objected to nearly everybody mentioned for the place, so it is considered that he has some man in mind who is on the force and who would be friendly to O'Mara. Some South Siders thought Detective McDonald ought to be selected. Ordinance Officer Murray G. Livingston was mentioned. Of all these and other names suggested, however, no one said they were taken up in the mayor's office during the conference on Tuesday, when the mayor himself suggested Detective Rice as a man who would do for the place. Assistant Superintendent Kennedy and Police Captains Bartley and McCabe have friends who believe in their ability and are suggesting them for the place.

Secret Conference With Mayor.

A secret and important conference on the police superintendency and matters closely relating thereto was held yesterday afternoon in the private office of Mayor Hays at City hall, which was attended by Mayor Hays, "Mickey" Hughes, Councilman "Eddie" Edwards and John A. Staley.

Hughes, Edwards and Staley are three conspicuous "reform" leaders in the Citizens' party and have been generally credited with considerable influence in police affairs under the administration of Wallace and even since the beginning of the administration of Mayor Hays, in whose election they and their followers aided.

These three satellites held the undivided attention of the mayor for over an hour. The mayor remained in his office long past his usual time of departure, apparently waiting for callers with whom he had an appointment. Before 4 o'clock Edwards, Staley and Hughes arrived together and walked into the mayor's private room without being announced. The door was quickly closed and all other callers excluded. Finally Edwards, Hughes and Staley emerged and the mayor made an exit through the side door to dodge the reporters.

Just Discussing Private Business.

The callers also attempted to make their escape in haste. Staley was asked: "Who is going to be the superintendent of police?"

"I don't know. We were consulting the mayor about some private business," replied Staley.

He did not indicate the nature of the "private business" which they had to discuss with the executive of the city government so confidentially.

"Are you for Capt. McCabe for superintendent of police?" Staley was asked.

"He will do. I am for any good man," he said, and he shot out of the door of the City hall, closely following his companions. Mayor Hays was caught on the fly. He returned a negative answer to everything.

"We have not decided upon a man for superintendent of police," he said, "and will not for a day or two."

"Low Class" Resorts Doomed.

Director Moore is determined the "low class" disorderly houses in the neighborhood of Water street and Cherry alley shall be wiped out. Many complaints are made to the police that men going to these houses are robbed by the inmates and that the women haunt the streets at night, accosting passersby. The director said he had already directed several houses closed.

Policeman Costello Is Dismissed.

Thomas Costello, who has been a policeman for many years, was discharged from the force on the recommendation of the police trial board. He was accused of conduct unbecoming an officer, but the specific offense was not made public. Six other members of the police force were exonerated of charges brought against them.

HOLDS WALLACE FOR COURT ON CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY

Former Police Superintendent and Associates Furnish Bail on Charges Brought by George H. Rohman.

Former Superintendent of Police Wallace, Special Officer Dunn, and Policemen James Clark and Dennis Duffy were held for court last night by Alderman C. F. Oyer on a charge of conspiracy, on information of George H. Rohman. The defendants gave bail in $800 each. Bernard Rankine of the West End is bondsman for Wallace and Special Officer Dunn, and Gregg Flucker for Clark and Duffy.

Rohman testified that on November 10 he was falsely arrested and detained at the central station at the instigation of Wallace and his officers. He claimed he was a Republican worker, and said that on November 9 he was called from his room, 140 Washington street, to the front door, where he was seized by Dunn and Clark, taken to the central station and held on a charge of disorderly conduct. The next morning he was fined by Magistrate Kane, which was later withdrawn.

Rohman testified that while in the station house he was struck by Policeman Clark, the blow blacking his eyes. Wallace was present at the hearing and seemed indifferent when held for court.

Special Officer Dunn was also held for felonious shooting. Rohman alleging he shot at him in Cherry alley on November 9. Clark and Duffy were also charged with assault and battery by Rohman, and waived a hearing on this charge.

CLAIMS EXCEED SUM OF $91,000

Cunningham Files Statement of Debts of W. H. Andrews to the Enterprise Bank.

MARSHALL TAKES NO ACTION

Receiver Cunningham of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, yesterday filed in the United States circuit court a statement of claim against William H. Andrews to recover from the latter $91,088.17, with interest.

The sum of $77,422.30, with interest from April 1, 1905, is said to be due on a note made by the defendant on January 1, 1904. Interest was paid until April 1, 1905. On this paper the defendant promises to pay to the order of T. Lee Clark at the Lincoln National bank, one year after date. The note, it is set forth, was duly indorsed by Clark, purchased by the Enterprise bank before maturity and the proceeds paid to Andrews. The note was not paid by Clark, nor has any part of it been paid by Andrews or anyone in his behalf.

Further the statement sets forth that the defendant owes $10,265.87, with interest from October 1, 1904, upon a note signed by Andrews, who promised to pay to the order of Clark six months after date at the Enterprise National bank. This note was indorsed by Clark and was bought by the Enterprise bank before maturity, and the proceeds paid to the defendant. This note, Receiver Cunningham says, was not paid at maturity either by Andrews or Clark, or had Andrews any money on deposit at the bank.

Sues for Protest Fees.

It is further set forth that Andrews is indebted to the bank in the sum of $2,500 upon a note made and signed July 3, 1905, whereby Andrews promised to pay to the order of Francis J. Torrance $2,500 at the Enterprise bank. This note was indorsed by Torrance and was discounted at the Enterprise bank. This note was not paid, either by Andrews or Torrance, and it was duly protested on November 2. The plaintiff sues to recover $1.54 protest fees.

Andrews, it is also claimed, owes the bank $850, with interest from October 1, 1905, on a draft or bill of exchange made by F. R. Nichols in Pittsburgh, October 6, 1905, whereby Nichols requests A. L. Bentley, 15 days after date thereof, to pay to the order of Andrews $850. This paper was duly presented to Bentley and accepted by him, payable at the Commercial bank at Titusville, Pa. Before maturity the bill was indorsed by Andrews and delivered to the Enterprise bank, the proceeds being paid to Andrews. On October 31 the bill of exchange was presented to Bentley for payment, but he refused to pay it.

Special Examiner Moxey returned yesterday from Washington and spent part of the day at the Enterprise bank. In the morning he conferred for a while with United States District Attorney Dunkle.

Made Verbal Report to Ridgely.

Mr. Moxey says he did not submit a written report to the Washington authorities, but simply gave Comptroller Ridgely a verbal account of the developments at the bank.

Attorney Thomas M. Marshall, who is counsel for State Treasurer Mathues, has filed no answer to the petition of the directors of the Enterprise bank, who have asked that the judgments against them be opened, and they let into a defense.

Joseph H. Hunter, receiver of the National Cable and Wire Company, of which Cashier Clark of the Enterprise bank was president, secured an order of court approving an arrangement to sell certain property to the Camden Iron works of Camden, N. J. Mr. Hunter says among the contracts of the insolvent concern is one with the Camden company for manufacturing and erecting cables in New Orleans. There is now a charge of $3,863 against the Camden works, and this account the receiver has undertaken to cancel. To fill this contract a large sum must be expended for material to make the cables, the receiver says, and he has made arrangements with the Camden works to release the National Cable and Wire Company from all liabilities under the contract on the following conditions, which the court approved: The cable company is to ready for material and cable to be shipped to New Orleans, $2,895.12, $1,323.56 for cable now there; to be paid for all cable reels not returned to the factory, and $432.40 for preliminary expenses.

TELLS OF THE AIR BRAKE.

Westinghouse Managers Hear How It Is Becoming Great Safety Appliance on Street Cars.

"The Air Brake as Applied to Electric Cars," was the subject of a paper presented yesterday at the third day's session of the convention of the Westinghouse District Managers at East Pittsburgh. W. S. Bartholomew, western representative of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, handled the topic and showed to his audience how the air brake is now coming to the front as a safety appliance on street cars. Another paper, which evoked interest was entitled: "The Steam Turbine Situation," prepared by E. H. Sniffen, sales manager of the Westinghouse Machine Company. He spoke of the rapid popularity which the steam turbine has gained.

W. F. Zimmerman, the New York representative of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, read a paper on "The Banking Fraternity as Related to the Sale of Electrical Apparatus," W. C. Kerr, the president of Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co., made an address relating to "Useful Co-Operation" and T. F. Gaylord, the Chicago district manager, spoke on the subject of "Recruiting and Systematic Training of Salesmen." Last evening the managers were entertained at a banquet at the Hotel Schenley.

CLAIMS NO WATER WILL BE POURED

Formation of Holding Company for Philadelphia Co. Common Stock Is Discussed.

NEW CONCERN MAY BE LARGE

On behalf of the new project for uniting the stock of the Philadelphia Company in a holding company the claim is made that the project does not involve turning a small Niagara into the big Pittsburgh public service corporation. It is pointed out that, accepting as correct the figures given in The Gazette yesterday for the proportions of bonds and stock to be given in return for Philadelphia Company common, dividends larger than the present ones would not be required for the production of a five per cent dividend on the new company's stock.

The Pittsburgh concern may not be the only one which the new holding or securities company will connect itself with. It is possible that such a concern as the United Gas Improvement Company or the North American Company, holding interests in many public service corporations, is being brought into existence in the new deal.

The information given in The Gazette yesterday was that for each $50 par share of Philadelphia Company common there would be paid $37.50 in bonds and $20 in stock of the new company. The proposition is expected to be laid before all the common stockholders of the Philadelphia Company.

Fear Large New Issues.

It is figured that if all the $30,000,000 of common went into the deal the proposition would be as follows:

Dividends at the present rate of 6 per cent on the Philadelphia Company common, $1,800,000.

Interest annually on the $22,500,000 5 per cent bonds of the new company, $1,125,000.

Leaving for new company's stock $675,000, or over 5 per cent on the $12,000,000 required in this deal.

It is not known, however, whether the amount of the stock and bonds required to handle the matter in this way will be the entire issue. It has been feared that the proposition to form a new company and float additional securities would mean the issuance of so many securities that to get earnings a higher price for natural gas would be charged, since that is the most easily affected commodity which the Philadelphia Company sells.

That such an increase is proposed was officially denied yesterday, and it was stated that the Philadelphia Company will remain under the same management and with the same policy in vogue. It was also pointed out that since the company was formed there has been but one increase in the price of natural gas, when it was raised from 22½ to 25 cents net per 1,000 feet.

Community Grew Up to Capital.

In regard to the general proposition that the Philadelphia Company securities at present represent any water, it was claimed that this was true only to a limited extent at the formation of the present combination, the water coming into the consolidated concern through the companies which it absorbed. This water has been removed from the capitalization, it was said, by the expenditure of close to $2,500,000 out of earnings in the seven years on permanent improvements on its natural gas properties. This policy in the natural gas department has been rigorously followed, despite prophecies that it would be found impossible.

It was claimed also that the Philadelphia Company's capital has been shown to be justified by the growth of its earnings with the growth of the community it serves.

In regard to the query whether if such a deal would be advisable it could not be handled by the company itself, the common stock being retired by a combination of 75 per cent of five per cent bonds and 25 per cent of stock, it was said that the stockholders would not accept the plan. The fact that the project will give the Pittsburgh concern connection with a large eastern financial interest which will be in a position to handle future stock issues is emphasized as important. The stock had been selling below par until the recent buying movement moved it up several points above 50.

JEWS GIVE LIBERALLY.

Penn Avenue Merchants Make Generous Donations for Relief of Victims of Russian Massacres.

Jewish merchants in the Penn avenue district contributed liberally last night to the fund for the relief of the sufferers in the Jewish massacres. A mass meeting was held in Arnfeld's hall and was attended by several hundred Jews, the majority of whom but a few years before had left the riot-ridden districts in the desolate country. After stirring addresses by Rabbi Ashinsky and Attorney A. C. Sting, the crowd in the hall thronged about A. M. Heimiller, local treasurer of the fund, and showered gold, silver and greenbacks upon the table. At the meeting it was announced that $650 had been contributed. Jacob Klein and Mr. Hanauer led the list with contributions of $50 each.

Today the Jewish women in the district will make a house-to-house canvas to obtain more contributions. Committees will be appointed this week to call upon all the people of the city to assist in the work.

PURE FOOD AGENTS INDICT 35 LOCAL BUSINESS MEN

Pure Food Agents James Foust, E. D. Miller, W. A. Hutchinson and James McGregor yesterday made 35 informations before Alderman Groetzinger against dairymen, butchers and grocers of this city, Allegheny, Homestead, Coraopolis and Braddock. The merchants were all charged with violating the pure food laws. Some were arrested and gave bond. The preservatives alleged to have been used by the dealers are formaldehyde, benzoic acid and coal tar dyes. The hearings have been set for next week.

CAUSES PRINCIPAL'S ARREST FOR PUNISHING HER SON

Charging that W. E. Albig, principal of the Elizabeth schools, punished her 14-year-old son in an unusual manner, Mrs. Annie Riley entered suit against the principal on two charges of assault and battery before Alderman L. N. Morgan of McKeesport. At the hearing yesterday Albig admitted punishing the boy. Mrs. Riley charged her son had been beaten with a piece of rubber hose. Alderman Morgan reserved his decision.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap catharties, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and catharties which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

TAMMANY JOINS HEARST FOR AN HONEST BALLOT

Both Sides Will Inspect Tally Sheets—Papers Are to Be Photographed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—William Randolph Hearst today won the first round in his contest of the election of George B. McClellan as mayor. This was the decision of Justice Amend of the supreme court that both sides should be allowed to see the original tally sheets kept by the inspectors at the recent election.

Hearst lawyers had obtained a writ for the production of these tally sheets for Manhattan and the Bronx, which are in the hands of County Clerk Hamilton. Clarence Shearn, H. DeForrest Baldwin, Henry Youngs and Augustin G. Fox represented Mr. Hearst. Charles H. Knox, chairman, and J. Luce, secretary of the Tammany law committee, together with several other Tammany lawyers were on hand to guard the interests of the board of county commissioners. Former Judge Alton B. Parker represented Mayor McClellan.

After the lawyers had argued the case Justice Amend said that the ends of justice would be served by allowing both sides to see the original tally sheets, but declared that these tally sheets should remain in the custody of the county clerk. If occasion arose when it would become necessary for any of the tally sheets to be examined or removed from the custody of the county clerk such sheets should first be photographed.

After the decision by Judge Amend the members of the county board of canvassers met again and adjourned until tomorrow, when the canvass of the vote will be undertaken.

HIGHWAYMAN KILLS GIRL.

Father's Failure to Obey Command Results in Death of One and Injury of Another.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15.—Josephine Oom was instantly killed and her sister probably fatally wounded by a highwayman tonight, a quarter of a mile from the city. Instead of heeding the command the father whipped up his horses and the highwayman fired twice, the first shot killing Josephine, and the second wounding Jennie. The man escaped.

POLITICS STIRS UP DELEGATES

Lively Discussion by A. F. of L. Over Making Indian Territory and Oklahoma One State.

NO ACTION ON RAILROAD RATE

Tuberculosis and politics furnished diversion for the delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention in Old City hall yesterday afternoon. Two political questions—admission of Indian territory and Oklahoma as one state, and the Townsend-Esch railroad rate regulation bill—were put to sleep. The statehood question occasioned the liveliest debate that has occurred since the convention started. Dr. Paul Kennedy of the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis of New York addressed the convention on means of preventing the disease.

The committee on resolutions started something when it recommended the adoption of a resolution introduced by Delegate Hanraty of the Twin Territory Federation of Labor favoring the admission of Indian territory and Oklahoma as one state, to petition congress to purchase the segregated coal and asphalt lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians and donate them to the new state to dispose of the surface for the purpose of establishing a public school fund, and to petition congress to take all land except a homestead for each Indian from the five tribes and allow them to be sold as farms to actual settlers.

Would Not Rob the Indian.

Delegate Andrew Furseth started the speechmaking in opposition to adopting the report of the committee. He objected to mixing the affairs of the territories with the affairs of the federation, and making the American Federation a party to a scheme to rob the Indians, which has already gone on too long without protest from organized labor. He continued along the same lines, reciting the alleged abuses to which the Indian has been subjected.

President Gompers, who had relinquished the chair to Chairman Duncan of the committee of resolutions, made a bitter attack on the resolution. He stated that the people of the territories had already voted against joint statehood.

"The resolution contains three propositions," he said. "One to establish a state, another regarding a scheme for a school fund, and the other the sale of Indian lands. We all know from history how we have been able to fill the Indian with firewater and then buy his lands."

President Gompers also referred to the original constitution of the proposed state, which guaranteed the open shop. This feature was later eliminated.

Resolution Badly Beaten.

The resolutions committee when it realized that it was beaten resorted to parliamentary tactics to make a masterly retreat. A motion to refer the resolution to the executive council lost. Another to refer it back to the committee failed for want of a second. On the vote not to concur in the adoption of the resolution, the chorus of ayes shook the hall.

There was no decision on the Townsend-Esch bill. Delegate G. E. Brookshaw of the Central Labor union of Salisbury, N. C., presented a resolution that the convention ask the defeat of the bill in congress, as it was believed it would cause a reduction of wages of railroad employes. There was some division on the vote to lay the resolution on the table, although the raising of hands showed that the motion carried. Samuel Lavin, who made the motion, became confused and demanded a roll call.

"Against your own proposition?" asked President Gompers.

A laugh followed as the delegate realized the situation, and Lavin subsided.

A number of other resolutions were adopted during the day, among them being one indorsing the strike of the bridge workers; favoring postal savings banks; regarding hours of government employes; favoring the adoption of a law allowing civil employes of the government to sue for damages when injured while at work, and several relating to the grievances of seamen on the great lakes.

Matter for State Legislation.

A resolution regarding the attachment of wages of workmen in other states was referred to the different state federations to bring before their legislatures, as it was not deemed a matter for federal legislation.

The morning session was late in getting down to business, and when it opened President Gompers was absent. The chair was filled until his arrival by James Duncan, first vice president.

The address of Dr. Kennedy was listened to with interest by the convention. He showed by charts the ravages of tuberculosis and told how to prevent it. He said plenty of fresh air, good food and not too much work would do wonders. He asked the federation to cooperate with the organization he represented to prevent spread of the disease and invited the convention to send delegates to the first tuberculosis exhibition in New York from November 27 to December 5. One day, November 29, has been set apart for the discussion of the prevention of tuberculosis and trades unionism. A special committee on tuberculosis was appointed by President Gompers, as follows: William Huber, John Roach, John R. O'Brien, Timothy Healy, Victor Altman, James Walsh, George H. Warner, John T. Dempsey, J. A. Roberts, O. H. Hill and M. J. Watkins. Mrs. Princess Long sang a medley of patriotic songs at the opening of the afternoon session. The delegates from the south heartily cheered "Dixie."

Many Resolutions Presented.

The time for handing in resolutions expired last evening and several dozen were presented to Secretary Morrison after adjournment. So far no resolution regarding socialism has been introduced but it may bob up in some form at any time during the convention.

The local entertainment committee will entertain the delegates at a theater party in the Grand Opera house this evening. President Gompers and the officials of the federation will occupy four boxes and 500 seats have been reserved for the delegates.

President Gompers will address a special meeting of the chamber of commerce at the association rooms, 537 Wood street, at 8 p. m. Monday on "Organized Labor Viewed by Its Opponents and Advocates."

An effort is to be made within the next year to ally a number of the railroad brotherhoods with the American Federation of Labor. The Order of Railroad Telegraphers is the only one of the several railroad organizations identified with the federation. The effort will depend on the success the Order of Railroad Telegraphers meets with in securing a vice presidency for one of its delegates to the labor convention which is being held in Pittsburgh.

L. W. Quick Is Being Boomed.

L. W. Quick of St. Louis, at present grand secretary and treasurer of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, is the man who is being boomed for the vice presidency as a representative of that organization in the federation. His cause is being ably espoused by Attorney D. G. Ramsay of Chicago, who was candidate for judge in the recent election. Mr. Ramsay has been identified with the American Federation for a long time and is also past president of the railroad telegraphers' organization.

"I believe that it would be a good thing for the federation if a representative of the telegraphers were given a place in the official personnel of the federation," said Mr. Ramsay last night. "The place of such a man on the board would tend toward a closer affiliation of the several other big railroad brotherhoods."

Messrs. Ramsay and Quick and L. K. Marr of Philadelphia, secretary of the executive board of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, are here as delegates to the federation convention. They will remain over until Saturday night for the big meeting of the railroad and commercial telegraphers in the Grand Army hall at 318 Fifth avenue, and will probably make addresses at the latter meeting. A reception was tendered to them last night at the Seventh Avenue hotel by Pittsburgh division No. 32, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, about 75 members being present.

LIGHT BILL DOES NOT LIMIT PRICE

No Provision in Bigelow's Ordinance to Reduce Cost Below $96 Per Arc Lamp.

LARKIN TALKS OF ASSURANCES

Controller Larkin says he has been assured that the Allegheny County Light Company will, of its own free will and without competition, greatly reduce the price of street lighting to the city, if it obtains an extension of its contract from one to four years, as provided in Director Bigelow's ordinance introduced in councils Monday night.

The controller returned from Cincinnati, where he spent a couple of days, and declared he stood on the light question just where he stood two years ago and a year ago. The controller, however, has made some modification. Formerly he was opposed to a four-year contract unqualifiedly. Now he is willing to approve a four-year contract, if the city can get a reduction from the Allegheny County Light Company.

"The promises of competition are very vague and unsatisfactory at best," says the controller. "I think that the cost an arc light, instead of $96, should be reduced to $76 or $75. That would save the city $50,000 to $60,000 a year. A reduction of $10 an arc light would not be enough. I am assured that if the contract is made for four years there will be a reduction in the cost, but there should be a substantial reduction."

The controller does not explain how the reduction is to be made nor does he give any evidence that such is the intention of the Allegheny County Light Company, the only concern that can bid for the contract. The ordinance presented to councils on Monday night does not fix any maximum price per arc light. It simply provides that the director of public works and the mayor may let a contract for a sum as high as $400,000 per year, leaving it to the discretion of the director and mayor as to the price the city shall pay.

The Allegheny County Light Company will be the only bidder, and if it asks $96 per arc light, or even more, the director and mayor can grant it. The controller might, however, refuse to sign a contract for an exorbitant price if he should desire to antagonize Director Bigelow in the matter, but the controller does not indicate he would do this.

It is in the power of councils to fix a maximum price per arc light and Director Bigelow and the mayor would be compelled to keep the bids below the price named by councils. Controller Larkin does not state who gave him the "assurance" that the price of light would be reduced nor does he give any reason for his belief that the Allegheny County Light Company will voluntarily reduce its price, when there is no competition to force a reduction.

REVENUE BOARD HOLDS CONTINUOUS SESSION

Meeting for Past Two Days Examining Bank Bonds—Governor Gets Pointers.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—Absolute safety of the state's millions on deposit in banks and trust companies in Pennsylvania is insured by the work now being done by the board of revenue commissioners which has been in session for two days.

The purpose of the board is to see that all the bonds are brought up to date, and where necessary substituted by new paper, so as to remove any question whatever as to their adequacy for the protection of the state money. As the public funds are deposited in about 200 banks and trust companies, and each deposit is required to be protected by a bond for double the amount of the deposit the task undertaken by the board is enormous.

Members of the board were in session last night until after midnight, and they were at it again all of today, adjourning at 7 p. m. Attorney General Carson has been sitting with the board a portion of the time in order to render necessary legal advice.

Gov. Pennypacker is still receiving many suggestions as to the coming session of the legislature. One of his callers today was former Auditor General Auerbaugh of Honesdale, who advised that the proper legislative step be taken for the distribution of three-fourths of the $10,000,000 state surplus for the improvement of the public schools, and for good roads, the remaining one-fourth being retained in the state treasury as an emergency fund.

State Senator Cyrus G. Woods of Greensburg, president pro tem of the senate, came to Harrisburg today to ascertain whether it was his duty to issue a writ for a special election in the Eighth senatorial district of Philadelphia to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Horatio B. Hackett. Deputy Attorney General Fleitz informed him that Lieut.-Gov. Brown is the proper official to issue such a writ, and that in case of vacancies in the house of representatives this duty involves upon Speaker Walton.

SELL CHURCH PROPERTY AND BUY ANOTHER SITE

Emory M. E. Congregation Passes Upon Two Deals and Plan New $100,000 Church.

At a congregational meeting of Emory Methodist Episcopal church, North Highland avenue, last night, it was almost unanimously decided to approve the sale of the church property to Oswald W. Werner for $145,000, and buy the Dr. H. W. Fulton property at North Highland avenue and Rippey street for $80,000 for a new church site. This is the accomplishment of a proposed deal which was exclusively told in The Gazette two weeks ago.

While no plans have as yet been even considered by the congregation, it is proposed to erect a handsome, modern stone church on the new property at a cost of not less than $100,000. The congregation secured the option to remain in its present building for one year, but will make every effort to have the new church built before the expiration of that time.

The church property sold is at North Highland avenue and Broad street, with a frontage of 140 feet on the avenue and 180 feet on Broad street, and runs back to Kirkwood street, where it has a frontage of 116 feet. The property purchased by the congregation has a frontage of 111 feet in North Highland avenue and 172 feet on Rippey street, and contains a large, center hall, brick house and stable. The old church property was purchased by the congregation about eight years ago for $80,000 and hence shows a profit of $65,000 in that period.

EXPECT TO BRING 50,000 CHURCH MEMBERS HERE

Centennial Convention of Christian Churches to Come to Pittsburgh in 1909—Committee Will Locate in This City.

Encouraged by the success of the simultaneous evangelistic campaign being conducted by the Christian churches of Western Pennsylvania, a committee representing that denomination nationally will meet here on Thursday next to formulate plans for celebrating the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the denomination in America, in Pittsburgh in 1909.

If this program carries it is expected that the celebration will bring 50,000 members of the church to this city from all parts of the country. The Centennial committee was appointed four years ago at the national convention of the church, held in Omaha, and it has been decided to establish headquarters here after the present revival closes. It is proposed by the committee to spend $10,000 every year during the next four years to properly promote a revival campaign to lead up to the centennial.

The last convention of the church, which met in San Francisco in August, appointed another committee to co-operate with the centennial committee, and a joint conference of these committees has been called to meet in the Seventh Avenue hotel next Thursday morning. Following are the members of the centennial committee:

The Rev. Dr. J. H. Garrison, editor of the Christian Evangelist, St. Louis, chairman; the Rev. Archibald McLean of Cincinnati, corresponding secretary of the Christian Missionary society; Mrs. Helen E. Moses of Indianapolis, corresponding secretary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions; the Rev. George W. Muckley of Kansas City, corresponding secretary of Church Extension board; the Rev. George L. Snively of St. Louis, general secretary of the National Benevolent association.

COAL OPERATOR FAVORS AN EXTENSION OF AWARD

Important Move Proposed in the Work of the Coal Strike Commission by Vote of the Miners.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SCRANTON, Nov. 15.—W. L. Connell of this city, one of the largest coal operators in the anthracite field and president of the board of conciliation, declared today in favor of extending the award of the coal strike commission, which includes the continuing of the conciliation board in Pennsylvania.

"It could be done in the miners' convention at Shamokin in December," said Mr. Connell. "A resolution could be adopted indicating the desire of the miners to extend the award for a term of three or five years, or as many as may be deemed advisable. Then, if pleasure could then be presented to the operators' representatives on the board of conciliation through those representing the miners. A convention of the operators could then be called and the proposition be discussed. It could be settled very easily.

"The reason I suggested that such a resolution be considered at Shamokin is because the convention will be held in December, and one of the principal matters to be discussed and acted on is the expiration of the strike commission. The operators are the heads of the coal and railroad companies. I have not discussed the matter with them, and, personally, I do not care to say anything on that particular question."

Chancellor MacCracken of New York University Delivers Strong Address Before the Presbyterians.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Chancellor MacCracken of New York university, speaking tonight at the Presbyterian centennial celebration in Columbus, said:

"The future of Christianity depends on the plain pastor. He must sit down on the extremists in theology, as Abraham Lincoln sat down on Seward and Chase when he got their resignations, and exclaimed that now he could ride like he rode when a boy to mill, sitting on a meal bag with a pumpkin in either end.

"The successful pastor must resist the ultra-orthodoxy of Princeton and the ultra-heterodoxy of Union, and himself shape both the church's creed and the church's practice, because he is closest to the heart of the people."

CITY HAS TWO POLICE FORCES.

Unique Situation Exists at Huntington, Where Both Parties Are Represented.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Two police forces are tonight patrolling the city, and a clash between the old force appointed by the Republican council and the new force put to work by the Democrats, is feared. Immediately upon the receipt of the decision of the supreme court dismissing the writ of prohibition issued by Judge Doolittle to restrain the ejectment from office of all the Republican policemen, the Democrats had other men sworn in.

The old officers refused to give up their badges to the new officers, and are still on duty. Both the Republicans and Democrats contend that they are right, and it is likely that two police forces will continue to guard the city.

ASK RELIEF ON TARIFF DUTIES

Boot and Shoe Manufacturers Petition President for Some Assistance.

FAVOR REVISION OF THE SCALE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 16, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.

"Tariff revision and free raw hides" was the proposition laid before President Roosevelt today by a committee representing the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturing association. While this demand is recognized as a sectional one, emanating from New England where the shoe manufacturing business is one of the leading industries, yet the personnel of the committee would indicate a wide scope, for among its members were business men from New York, Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Portsmouth, O., Rochester and Auburn, N. Y., Boston and other New England cities. The visit of this committee to the President is significant in that it shows there is a demand in various parts of the country for a revision of the tariff. Iowa and the west want the implement schedule revised, Minnesota and the southwest ask for a reduction on Canadian wheat, all of which supports the contention that if the tariff is to be revised it should be done now during these prosperous times and by the friends of the protective tariff principle.

What President Roosevelt's personal ideas on the subject are the shoe manufacturers can only conjecture. He declined to discuss with them the matter in any but a formal way and to say that their proposition should have the careful consideration of himself and congress. It has been reported that the President would not touch upon the tariff in his message to congress in December but would concentrate his attention on the railroad rate question, intending when that matter was out of the way, to send a special message to congress recommending a revision of the tariff.

If this is the President's plan, he gave no intimation of it in his talk to the visiting delegation today. His reticence was due to the fact that when a delegation called upon him a year ago he indulged in a free and informal discussion with them and later was misquoted in the public prints and distorted quotations were used in the recent Massachusetts election campaign material. He did not care to lay himself open to a repetition of this experience.

Gov. W. L. Douglas of Massachusetts was chairman and spokesman of the delegation and in the party was President Hanan of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association.

L. W. STRAYER.

WYM'N WOULD LIKE TO ABOLISH TAX OFFICE

With Expiration of His Term He Would Have Treasurer Collect Delinquent Taxes.

An administration measure introduced in Allegheny select councils yesterday afternoon by Dr. Andrew Easton provides for the abolition of the delinquent tax office, and places the collection of all taxes in the hands of the city treasurer. Dr. Easton and Morris Einstein, the Wyman leader in select, are invariably a unit on all measures that have any factional element, and Dr. Easton is not credited with draughting the bill or originating the scheme.

It came in the form of a resolution and was immediately referred by John C. Oliver, chairman pro tem, to the committee on finance. Included in its contents are provisions for the collection of all taxes and the filing of liens. It is intended to become effective April 1, 1906. By that time a Republican administration will, in all probability, have control of the city, and the bill introduced yesterday is regarded simply as a dare to the Republicans, who have been advocating the abolition of the delinquent tax office.

A similar measure was introduced into Allegheny councils more than two years ago and was fought desperately by Mayor Wyman and his entire cabinet. Common council finally defeated it. The administration so openly and bitterly fought the original measure that the political significance of the present one is doubly obvious.

Morris Einstein introduced a preamble and resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of eight to consider all bills affecting the city of Allegheny in the special session of the legislature. The Allegheny administration is opposed to annexation to Pittsburgh, and it is said Einstein wishes a committee that will be active in participation of all things pertaining to a Greater Pittsburgh bill. The resolution was passed under a suspension of rules and sent to common council.

The resolution instructing the director of public works to prepare plans and an estimate of the cost of improving Federal street from Carrol street to the terminus of Federal, passed finally. Several ordinances providing for the laying of sewers passed finally.

Sir Thomas received cable inquiries from New York on the subject.

The loss on stock is estimated at $5,000 and on the building about half that amount, covered by insurance.

INDIANS BEATEN BY MASSILLON

Budget Seamon's Big Tigers Win from the Redskins at Cleveland by 8 to 4.

MT. PLEASANT KICKS GOAL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—The Massillon Tigers of Massillon, O., composed of professional football players, defeated the Carlisle Indians on Vaulhorn field here today, 8 to 4, in a game in which the former's weight practically decided the contest. The field was muddy and covered with three inches of snow and slush and gave the Indians no opportunity for trick plays.

Five thousand people saw the game. Few end runs were made, most of the gains being made by line bucking. Wahoo's poor judgment in handling a punt was responsible for the safety scored by the Tigers, and Pierce's weak punt in the second half resulted in the Ohio team's other touchdown. The Tigers are fast, strong and aggressive.

Mt. Pleasant kicked goal from the 15-yard line. Lineup:

Massillon—8.		Carlisle Indians—4.
Schrontz (capt.)	L. E.	Wahoo
McNulty	L. T.	Bowen (capt.)
Kerkhoff	L. G.	Dillon (Roy)

J. Nesser (Mathews)	R. H.	Archiquette
Norman (T. Nesser)	F. B.	Dubois

First half: Safety—Archiquette. Second half: Touchdown—Mathews. Goal—Schrontz. Goal from field—Mt. Pleasant. Time of halves—30 and 20 minutes. Referee—George Gaston, W. and J. Umpire—Miles Thompson, Georgetown. Linesman—A. W. Morris, Western Reserve.

SOLLY STROUP RETURNS FROM THE KLONDIKE LAND

Solly Stroup arrived yesterday in Pittsburg from Alaska, looking as young and strong as ever. Solly is a boxer of whom Pittsburgh can feel proud. He has had his ups and downs, but in every contest in which he engaged he could be counted on to give his very best. Solly has been a winner right along. Last March, after fighting on the Pacific coast, he went to Alaska to do a little prospecting. He landed in Dawson after a long tramp, at once went on with Billy Smith, who had 16 pounds the better of the weight. Solly lost the decision. Then he met Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, and the two went to Fairbanks. There Solly met Tommy Maxwell and won on a foul in seven rounds. He met Maxwell a week later and knocked him out in nine rounds. In the meantime O'Brien met Billy Bates, a likely fighter, and beat him twice, once in 10 rounds and again on a foul in six rounds. Then the two separated, Stroup going to Nome and O'Brien leaving for San Francisco to meet Al Kaufmann. At Nome Solly met Chic Hudson for 20 rounds, the contest ending in a draw. According to the Nome paper it was the best fight seen in Alaska.

While in Alaska Solly staked out a claim about 40 miles from Fairbanks, together with his brother Lewis. They sank a shaft and got a little haul. Lewis is still in the land of the midnight sun working the claim, and Solly will go there again next spring.

Solly will spend the winter in Pittsburgh and incidentally will take on any man at his weight. He intends to visit Charleroi today, where he is a great favorite, and will easily get on a match.

WASH.-JEFF. TO DROP ALLEGHENY AND OHIO MEDS

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—As a result of attacks made by Allegheny college of Meadville and Ohio Medical university of Columbus, O., against Washington and Jefferson football team the local institution may call off athletic relations with these schools. The statement from Allegheny college that Bridges had been given money to come here is especially galling to the local authorities, who claim to be operating a strictly amateur football team this year. Bridges denies the report and may demand proof of the accusation on his own behalf. No attention will be paid to the Ohio Medical university, and they will likely be left off the schedule next season.

Every varsity man was in his place today against the scrub team and a good practice resulted. The scrubs were given the field to the five-yard line, but were pushed back to the middle of the field. The varsity then on the offense swept the second team before them, scoring repeatedly. The coaches look for California normal to spring a surprise Saturday and wants the local team in good shape to meet them.

McDonald to Play Lyceum.

The McDonald eleven will play Lyceum on the Pittsburgh college grounds Saturday. Kenna, who had played since the game with Villa Nova will be at his old place at guard. Daley, the other big guard is also recovering rapidly and expects to be in the game. Smith, who has not played in a game since that with W. and J., is rounding into shape and was out last night for practice on the college grounds.

AMONG THE BOXERS.

Jack O'Brien has not yet signed to fight Bob Fitzsimmons.

Tonight at Steubenville Harvey Parker will meet a negro named Kaiser in a wrestling bout.

At Cincinnati Tuesday night, Andy Bozenah of Cincinnati got the decision over Kid Sayers of Milwaukee at the end of 15 rounds before the River View club.

Young Corbett and Fred Landers are slated to meet during the second week of December at Colma, Cal. The distance is to be 25 rounds. Landers made a good showing against Willie Fitzgerald last Friday.

The Unity club of Lawrence, Mass., wired Jimmy Mason yesterday wanting Larry Temple to meet Charley O'Rourke of Boston, the contest to be for 15 rounds to a decision. Mason sent back word that he would accept the offer. Temple is a great card around Boston.

It is probable that Jimmy Britt and Kid Herman may meet before the Indianapolis Athletic club on December 6. The club has offered the Californian the match and wants the local man for his opponent. Nate Lewis, manager for Herman, is anxious for the match to come off, and he will let Herman fight Britt at from 130 to 133 pounds.

Tomorrow night at Altoona, before the Bellevue Athletic club, Joe Alton, the 122-pound lad of this city, will meet Joe Campbell of Altoona in a six-round contest. The winner will meet the best eastern fighter that can be secured two weeks later. Alton is giving away weight, as Campbell will scale about 150 pounds. Young Zeringer, the 105-pounder of this city is nothing every evening with Alton at the Business Men's club, on Fifth avenue, and any one anywhere near Alton's weight can go there and box him any afternoon.

Gotch Wins After Hard Work.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 15.—Frank Gotch of Humboldt, Ia., had a bout here last night with Emil Klank. Gotch won the match, taking the first and second falls in 29:30 and 16:30 minutes respectively. Gotch was not in the best of condition, yet showed himself the better of the two men and, although Klank held out against him for a long time, it was against odds.

HERRON CHOSEN BY LARGE VOTE

Elected Manager of Shadyside Academy Baseball Team. Martin Assistant Manager.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS MEETING

John Herron was chosen baseball manager of next year's team at the annual election yesterday afternoon at Shadyside academy. Herron received the large vote of 170. Fred McCutcheon was second with 130 votes, and Wallace third. Wallace's vote was not announced.

Kent Martin was elected assistant manager, receiving 155 votes. James Goff, who opposed him, got 41 votes, and Burgwin, the third candidate, did not have his vote announced. Clarence Lally is captain of the nine.

The High school students who assembled at yesterday's mass meeting at the Central, meeting for the purpose of stirring up more enthusiasm for Saturday's game with Shadyside, made more noise than a boiler factory can produce. There were about 500 boys and girls, more girls than boys, present, and they, after listening to speeches, practiced songs. The High school muse has had another inspiration, and this song, to the tune of "Anheuser," and this song, to the tune of "Anheuser-shouters Saturday, was practiced under the direction of Cheermaster Conrad:

"Come, come, come, wake up Shadyside,
Play as you never have done,
P. H. S. will defeat you—
The victory soon will be won!
Hear the crowd shouting now,
'Rah, High School, rah, rah, rah,
Just see our boys rush 'em back.
Do, do, do, as you ought to do,
Under the Red and the Black."

The High school eleven had light signal work yesterday at Friendship park. The team is in fine shape, except Greer Orr, the fullback, who has a badly cut hand, which was reopened yesterday, and Quarterback Watterson, who has a bad arm. Both, however, will play Saturday. George Van Gorder, the hockey player, who reported last week for practice, was in uniform yesterday, but did not line up with the regulars. "Wink" Dowling was again practicing with the scrubs.

Shadyside had a lively scrimmage practice yesterday. Babst was again at quarterback in place of Heard. Heard handles the ball well and uses good judgment, but is rather slow in getting off the plays. The coaches may change their mind and start Babst at quarter Saturday.

SWATHMORE WINS FROM LAFAYETTE

Quakers Outplay the Presbyterians, Capturing the Annual Game by 27 to 0.

CROWELL IS THE STAR

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Swarthmore completely outclassed Lafayette in their annual football game this afternoon at Swarthmore, winning by the score of 27 to 0. It was a big surprise, as Lafayette was considered equally as strong as Swarthmore. The team today was a sad disappointment after the good work shown against Pennsylvania but two weeks ago.

Only twice during the 70 minutes of play did Lafayette make a first down and never got the ball nearer Swarthmore's goal than their own 50-yard line.

Swarthmore's offense was about perfect. The men plunged into the line rapidly and stopped plays attempted by Lafayette before they were rightly started. Last year Lafayette defeated Swarthmore by the small score of 4 to 0, and today Swarthmore went out to square accounts.

Swarthmore's goal was never in danger, the ball seldom being out of Lafayette's territory, and the former's all-round playing was superior to that of Lafayette. Crowell, Swarthmore's quarterback, was easily the star of the game. He gave a fine exhibition of punting, running back of kicks and tackling, and scored a goal from placement from the 29-yard line.

In addition to the placement goal Swarthmore scored four touchdowns, from which three goals were kicked and one missed. The Quaker team scored 16 points in the first half. About 5,000 persons saw the game. The line-up:

Lafayette—0.		Swarthmore—27.
Snook (Ellicott)	L. E.	Rowlands (Perkins)
Cooper	L. T.	Milliman
Dowd	L. G.	Krifer
Rogers	C.	Coble

Shuster	Q. B.	Crowell
McAa	L. H.	Barnett
Wassmund (Hall)	R. H.	Pritchard
McAvoy	F. B.	Wightman

Touchdowns—Wightman 2, Pritchard. Field goal—Crowell. Referee—Dr. Carl Williams. Umpire—Dr. J. C. Cracken. Linesman—Marshall, Reynolds, all of Pennsylvania.

MANY STUDENTS MUST STILL WAIT

Times as Many Come to Examinations as the "Tech" Can Accomodate.

NIGHT CLASSES ARE POPULAR

Keen regret rather than enjoyment of the success attained has come to the management of the Carnegie Technical schools at the present time. By a remarkable series of rapid building operations the schools were able to start this year, and it was known that there would be a large number of applications. That the new schools would so soon attract the thousands who have come there was not fully realized, and the result now that only a fraction of the applicants can be admitted owing to the limited space so far provided. The result of this is that the entrance examinations for the night classes have been cut short as told in the following statement issued last evening:

The Carnegie Technical schools have been compelled to discontinue the examinations held this week for the night courses in the school of applied science because so many applicants have been examined who have shown satisfactory preparation that the available teaching space has already been filled for this winter. More than three times the number that can be accommodated have already been examined in every department in which instruction can be given with the present state of the building operations.

Additional students will be enrolled early in January, when the school of apprentices and journeymen is opened. It is also hoped that before the end of January it will be possible to start classes in advanced work in the school of applied science. The total number who can be admitted as the result of the present entrance examinations is as follows:

For the regular night classes in the five-year course, 120.

Special students in the night classes, 144.

Advanced students, department of architecture, 24.

An equal number perhaps can be admitted for special work in the department of architecture.

It is a source of keen regret to the committee on technical schools and the members of the faculty that every student who has earnestly endeavored to prepare himself for admission to these night classes cannot be admitted, and every effort has been made to accommodate as many students as it is possible to teach properly, making it necessary to sacrifice parts of corridors, locker-room and offices to provide sufficient teaching space to take in the number of students which are comprised in the above list.

THE THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Miss Ethel Barrymore will be at the Nixon theater next week in her new western play, "Sunday." Miss Barrymore will be seen in the congenial role of a jolly, romping girl in a mining town. Supporting Miss Barrymore is a strong cast, including Bruse McRea, John Barrymore, the star's brother; Charles Harbury, Harrison Armstrong and Miss Virginia Buchanan.

Mrs. Carter will be seen in a revival of "Zaza" at the Belasco theater for the second and final week of her engagement here, starting next Monday. New York critics declared that Mrs. Carter is playing the role with a buoyancy and power noteworthy even for a woman like herself, in whom temperament and technique are so happily united.

Nixon & Zimmerman will present Frank Deshon and his comic opera company in the musical comedy, "The Office Boy," at the Alvin next week. Mr. Deshon in this piece is reported to have found the most amusing and entertaining vehicle that has belonged to his repertoire in his entire career.

One of the most talented youngsters of the stage at the present time is Joseph Santley, who is starring this season under the direction of Max H. Meyers in a new play by Hal Reid, which was expressly written to fit him, called "A Runaway Boy." "A Runaway Boy" comes to the Empire theater next week.

Bob Manchester's Vanity Fair burlesquers will be seen at the Gayety next week. The company will be strengthened by the special engagement of the celebrated vaudeville team of Brown, Harris and Brown, and a famous Japanese acrobat.

Battling Nelson, the lightweight champion of the world, will be seen for the first time in this city when he appears at the Academy of Music next week with the Fay Foster company.

If names of popular entertainers count for anything the Grand will have a splendid vaudeville bill next week. The continuous vaudeville will include Dan McAvoy and his "Fifth Avenue Girls," one of the prettiest and funniest of vaudeville bits; Eugenie Mantellia, Metropolitan Opera company star; the Ryan-Richfield company, which will present the idyllic Irish sketch, "Mike Haggerty's Daughter," and James J. Morton, who brings a new package of nonsense.

LONG HANDLED DINNER.

Clover Club Arranges Function With Lengthy and Comprehensive Title.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Its first dinner of the season will be given at the Bellevue-Stratford tomorrow night by the Clover club. It will be known as the "Thanksgiving-peace-jubilee-army-and-navy dinner," and the list of distinguished guests is large.

Gov. Pennypacker, State Treasurer-elect William H. Berry, James Gay Gordon and Congressman H. H. Bingham will contribute oratory, political and otherwise. Ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith will preside as toastmaster. It is probable that politics will share with the army and navy as one of the interesting features.

Discussion on Mission Work.

The members of Pittsburgh Sorosis yesterday took sides in a struggle between the advocates of home and foreign missions and for half an hour there was a lively debate on the relative merits of these lines of Christian effort. "The Japanese have just as good a religion as we have, and we have no right to meddle with their belief," was the contention of Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, who, with Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, led the discussion on the side of home missionary effort, claiming the money that is sent to foreign lands for the prosecution of missionary work should be expended in this country. "We have Europe at our doors and home mission work, especially settlement work in the large cities, should be carried on with increasing impetus and enthusiasm," was said in support of their side of the question. Several church women raised their voices in defense of foreign missionary work, among them being Mrs. C. P. Seip and Mrs. Minnie Ourey Roberts, whose argument was that the heathen have not the Christian religion, the only true religion, and it is the duty of all Christmas to carry this religion to them, while at the same time working for the millions who are in this country. Not less money for foreign work, but more for both foreign and home missions was their plea.

The debate arose over the presentation of the needs of the Soho Settlement house, made by its chairman, Mrs. George Porter, who asked for volunteer workers from the ranks of Pittsburgh Sorosis. So animated was the discussion that it was considered best to lay the matter over until the next meeting, when it will be brought up again and those who are willing to take up this settlement work will be given an opportunity. Mrs. William Carothers, the delegate from the club to the recent annual meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs for Pittsburgh, summer playgrounds and vacation schools, added interest to the discussion by telling of the commendation of the Rev. Dr. Harris on this benevolent work when he said the women of Pittsburgh and Allegheny are fulfilling the Lord's command in going out into the highways and byways and bringing the children into the playgrounds, the schools and the recreation parks. The club met yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Schenley and carried out its program for the day, supplemented with an unusually fine musical program by William Nevin Shaw, vocalist, and Prof. Byers, pianist and accompanist.

Will Discuss Rate Question.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 15.—President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, left for Washington today to meet by appointment President Roosevelt tomorrow. Previous to the meeting Dr. Robbins was honor guest at a handsome buffet luncheon which her sister, Mrs. Edward Stieren, whose house guest Dr. Robbins is, gave at the club house. There were 60 guests present and Mrs. Stieren was assisted by her sister, Miss Lyde Robbins and Mrs. S. M. Hoeber, president of the club. SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

A PROMINENT East End matron said yesterday, "Nearly all of Pittsburgh is in the east this week," and so it seems, for horse show and football have drawn great numbers of their devotees out of town for a space of time. A number of those who are in New York for the horse show will go to New Haven for the Yale-Princeton football game on Saturday and this evening a private car filled with prominent Smoky City residents will leave for the scene of the battle. George Hamilton Flinn is acting host for the company, which will include Mrs. Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Copley Thaw, Robert W. Flenniken, Frank Neale, Harry McCandless, Miss Mary Flinn, Miss Edith Flinn, Arthur Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nicola, and several others. The party will be enlarged in New York city, where several friends of the Pittsburghers, among them Edward Thaw, will board the car. The Saturday's games will be of especial interest to people of this city, as Rex Flinn, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flinn of North Highland avenue, is playing on the Yale team. Morrow Shepard, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shepard, is a student at Yale, and his parents and their younger son, Travello Shepard, will leave for New Haven this evening to remain over Thanksgiving. They will be joined by a party of Philadelphia friends. Among others who will be in attendance at the game will be Miss Mary Brooks Jennings, Miss Katherine Jennings, Miss Hester Singer and Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, all debutantes of the season, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodd. Miss Helen G. Ayers, another of the season's belles, expects to go to Ithaca for the Cornell-Columbia game on Saturday. She will be a member of the Alpha Delta Phi house party over the event. Miss Ayers leaves this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curry, who will be members of another fraternity house party in Ithaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Kampmann Here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herman Kampmann of San Antonio, Tex., arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning, expecting to be at the home of Mrs. Kampmann's brother, Edward E. Mellon, Bayard street, for a week. Since their wedding late in October, prior to which Mrs. Kampmann was Miss Mary Cadwell Mellon, they have visited Hot Springs, Va., Washington, D. C., and New York city, coming to Pittsburgh from the last named place. Mrs. Thomas Alexander Mellon of Fifth avenue, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Kampmann, had intended to give a large entertainment for her sister-in-law, but as her stay in the city will be short, the guest list has been shortened and only a dozen friends of the honor guest will be present at a luncheon in the Pittsburgh Golf club next Monday afternoon. The guests will be Miss Rebekah Jane Friend, Miss Georgia Neals Heard, Miss Emily Copeland Lyon, Miss Marie Heron, Miss Pauline Dilworth, Miss Harriet W. Balken, Miss Alberta Harper, Miss Ruth Miller, Mrs. Harvey Miller and Mrs. Andrew Bart Berger.

Elkins-Curry.

The Rev. H. C. Pespeis of Rochester, N. Y., was assisted by the Rev. Robert M. Russell of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, in officiating at the wedding of Miss Katherine Elkins and Albert Curry last evening. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, Col. George W. Elkins, the marriage was quietly solemnized at her mother's home in North Highland avenue, only the immediate relatives being present. The bride, given away by her brother, George Elkins, was attended by her sister, Miss Louise B. Elkins, as maid of honor, and by little Miss Elizabeth Elkins, a small niece, as flower girl. William J. Curry acted as his brother's best man. The bride wore a handsome princess gown of white satin and duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried white orchids and lilies of the valley, while her only ornament was Mr. Curry's gift, a necklace of pearls. Miss Elkins wore a gown of white chiffon cloth trimmed with duchesse lace and carried lavender orchids, and the little flower girl, in white mull and valenciennes lace, carried a basket of pink roses. The palms, flanked at each side by standards of large white chrysanthemums, formed the background for the bridal party in the drawing-room. Here the marble mantel was banked with tiny garden chrysanthemums, ferns filled the fireplace and over the massive mantel mirror was trailed asparagus sprengerii, which also adorned the lights throughout the house. Yellow chrysanthemums contrasted with the predominating tones in the library, which was occupied by the small supper tables. The bridal table was placed in the oak dining-room, covers being laid for 20 guests. The heart-shaped wedding cake stood in the center of the table and around it nestled fairleyense ferns and lavender orchids while at each end of the table was a round arrangement of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Henry M. Curry and Mrs. Elkins received with the bridal party following the ceremony, and during the evening Mr. and Mrs. Curry left the city on their wedding trip. Plans for their journey are being kept secret, but they will not return to Pittsburgh until Easter. Miss Cook of Norfolk, Va., Miss Greenfield of Montclair, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Elkins of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott Estabrook of Syracuse, N. Y., the latter formerly Miss Laura Curry, were the out-of-town wedding guests.

Stevenson-McAuley.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Blaine McAuley will live in Cable place, Oakland, at the conclusion of their wedding trip, which they began last evening following the wedding ceremony, reception and supper. The marriage occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Stevenson, in Edgerton avenue, East End. The Rev. A. R. Van Fossen, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, the only attendants being Miss Mary Ethel McAuley and Chester Hull, sister and cousin of the bride's groom. The bride wore a gown of white net and duchesse lace, a tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss McAuley, in white point d'Esprit carried pink roses. Chrysanthemums carried out a color scheme of pink and white in the decorations and among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. E. W. Elder and Edward Elder of Beechtree, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Cann and Miss Gumfry of Stoneboro, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Weirel of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stevenson of Reynoldsville.

Phillips-Coulter.

Miss Margaret Isabel Phillips and J. Calvin Coulter were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Phillips, in Verona. The Rev. W. P. Kerr, a former pastor of the Verona Methodist Episcopal church, who baptized the bride, solemnized the marriage at 4 o'clock, the bridal couple being attended by a maid of honor, Miss Florence Neil James, while Mr. Coulter's business partner, Adam S. Hays, served as best man. H. Ralph Phillips, the bride's brother, played the wedding march. The bridal gown, fashioned of white crepe de chine, was daintily trimmed with applique and shirring. The bouquet was of white roses. Miss James, in white mousseline and lace, carried pink carnations. The same colors, pink and white, were carried out in the decorations of the house. Only the members of the two families witnessed the ceremony, and after an informal wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Coulter began their wedding trip. They will later be at home to their friends in Swissvale where Mr. Coulter is in business.

Mrs. Schoyer's Aids.

At the tea which Mrs. Samuel C. Schoyer of Dallas avenue, Homewood, will give next Tuesday afternoon she will have a long list of assistants. Miss Marguerite Preston, a niece of the hostess, will make her formal bow on this occasion, the hours for which are from 3 until 6 o'clock. The aids for the afternoon are Mrs. Henry Eaton Collins, Mrs. Robert L. Martin, Mrs. George W. Little, Mrs. Henry M. Preston, Mrs. William Schoyer, Mrs. Harry C. Beggs, Mrs. Harry Lupton, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Mrs. Samuel Clarke Reed, Miss Aida Pollard, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Mabel Gillespie, Miss Elizabeth Eaton, Miss Dorothy Shoemaker, Miss Marion McKibbin, Miss Janet Brown, Miss Mary Guffey, Miss Marion McLean, Miss Jeannette Lupton, Miss Harriet Schoyer, Miss Grace Preston, Miss Ella Cassidy, Miss Elizabeth Rodgers, Miss Irene Cowan, Miss Elaine Cowan, Miss Margaret Walker, Miss Florence Walker, Miss Marion Aiken and Miss Marie Blackmore.

Sewickley Social Affairs.

Miss Jane C. Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Howard Blair of Sewickley, entertained yesterday afternoon with a pretty luncheon. The affair was in honor of two of the season's debutantes, Miss Mary Agate Brown and Miss Marion Elizabeth Clapp. The decorations were of chrysanthemums and the guests were all of the debutante set.

Another pretty little affair in the Sewickley valley yesterday afternoon was an informal entertainment given by Miss Daisy and Miss Rebecca Miller at their home in Glen Osborne in honor of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter C. Miller, a recent bride. She was formerly Miss Josephine Saunders of Louisville, Ky. Tea was served at 4 o'clock, Mrs. George R. Christy presiding at the tea table, with Mrs. Charles McKnight, Mrs. Charles Frederick Holdship, Miss Helen Davis and the Misses Christy as aids. Yellow chrysanthemums prevailed in the decorations.

Society Wedding at Mercer.

MERCER, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Mary Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Robinson, of Mercer, to Lieutenant Wilbur Alexander Blaine of the United States army, took place this evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother. On account of a recent death in the family the wedding was a quiet one, only immediate friends and relatives being present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. N. Gilkey, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by Miss Louise Magoffin and Miss Rebekah Gordon and the groom by Midshipman Edward S. Robinson, U. S. N., Lieut. Arthur Copp, Twenty-third infantry, U. S. A. The groom is a graduate of West Point and is attached to the Twenty-third infantry. After a wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Blaine will reside at Fort Slocum, Oswego, N. Y.

Will Have House Guests.

Miss Gertrude Childs, who has been chosen by Miss Louise Kay to act as one of the bridesmaids at her wedding to George Sinser Ebbert, will entertain two of the out-of town maids at her home in Bidwell street, Shadyside, over the wedding. The visitors will be Miss Louise Thatcher and Miss Joan Reed, both of New York city. It is to be regretted that Mrs. Edward S. Moore, at whose wedding the Kay-Ebbert engagement was announced, will not be in the city. Mrs. Moore, it will be remembered, was Miss Jean McBride, prior to her marriage last spring. Her sister, Mrs. James Lucien Knowles, will not be here for the coming wedding, and it is doubtful if any of the McGinley family, all the members of which are now in New York, will return to Pittsburgh for that event.

For Eastern Visitors.

Mrs. W. L. Hunter of Turtle Creek, will give an informal little luncheon today for the house guests of Mrs. J. Grant Anderson of North Highland avenue, East End. The visitors are Mrs. W. S. Miller of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Morrison Fitzsimmons of Overbrook, in addition to whom the luncheon guests will include Mrs. Frank Black, Miss Vira Love, Mrs. Joseph N. Anderson, Jr., and Mrs. J. Grant Anderson. Mrs. J. N. Anderson entertained a few friends at cards yesterday afternoon at her home in Wellesley avenue, East End, in honor of the visitors, who have come to Pittsburgh to attend the reception which Mrs. Alva C. Dinkey will give this afternoon.

Miss Ayers Is Honor Guest.

Dr. and Mrs. William Sill Foster gave a delightfully informal card party at their home in Shady avenue last evening. The affair was planned in honor of Miss Helen G. Ayers, the debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayers, who was introduced to society last week. Enough guests were present to require the use of 14 tables at which bridge was the game played. A simple decoration scheme was carried out in yellow and white, with chrysanthemums as the predominating flower.

Wickham-Gignoux.

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Miss Marjorie Wickham, daughter of the late Superior Court Justice John J. Wickham, and sister of Florence Wickham, grand opera prima donna, was married at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of the Transfiguration, New York city, to Dr. John Barnest Gignoux of New York, the Rev. Dr. George C. Houghton officiating. The ceremony was simple and was witnessed by the bride's mother, Mrs. Wickham, and by the immediate relatives of the groom. There were no attendants.

Rhodes-Stewart.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—A prominent society event here today was the marriage of Miss Cora Mae Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Rhodes and the Rev. Leon Stewart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Burnham, Pa. The wedding took place at the Rhodes home in Walnut street and was attended by 100 guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Campbell of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

INDIANA, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Dr. Walter Runnel Adams of Decatur, Ill., and Miss Charlotte Clark of this place, daughter of the late Judge Silas M. Clark, were married at the Clark home this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. J. W. Walter of the Indiana State Normal school officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Buchman, their daughters, Miss Genevieve Buchman and Mrs. William White, Jr., and Mr. White are expected in Pittsburgh today from New York. It will be a 4 o'clock affair, with Miss Josephine Eaton McConway, one of the season's debutantes, sharing honors with her house guest, Miss Helen Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Marshall-Singer.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—In the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends, Dr. John Johnston Singer of Connellsville, and Miss Marie Louise Marshall were married last evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. Peter's Episcopal church, the Rev. Dr. F. D. J. Lloyd officiating.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris C. Goodman of Carver street announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah, to Joseph Rosenberg, the wedding to take place on Tuesday, November 28, at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The Bellevue Outing club gave a supper last evening in its club rooms. Joseph A. Kenva, Leslie J. Dodds, John S. Littell and Charles D. Hartley formed the committee in charge.

The attendants were Miss Ida B. Knepf and Frank A. Ayres. Mr. and Mrs. Ayres will be at home after December 1 in Perrysville avenue.

Speakeasy Decision Reserved.

Louis Johnson, the colored janitor at Central station, who is accused by George H. Rohman of running a speakeasy at the station, had two hearings yesterday, one before the police board, which exonerated him, and another before Alderman J. V. McMasters, who reserved decision.

MARSHALL JURY IS DELIBERATING

Attorney Blakeley Objects to Attorney Kahle's Reference to Fine Clothes.

SUIT OVER A WEDDING RING

When court adjourned yesterday afternoon nothing had been heard from the jury in the case in which A. G. Marshall is charged with insurance swindling. The case went to the jury shortly after 2 o'clock. Attorney W. A. Blakeley frequently interrupted Attorney E. L. Kahle, objecting to the statements he made as to the evidence. He objected to Kahle's reference to Mrs. Marshall's fine clothes. Judge Macfarlane carefully rehearsed the details of this case, which has been on trial for nearly three weeks.

Claiming that a "gold" ring he had purchased for his bride as a wedding ring turned brass after three days' wear, Salo Sandor, a Slav, was the prosecutor in criminal court against Joseph Rosenfield, a McKeesport jeweler, from whom he purchased the ring, and whom he charged with false pretense. Sandor claims Rosenfield sold him three "gold" rings for $6, but the one he gave his bride on their wedding day turned brass after being on her finger just three days.

Judge Hawkins of orphans court dismissed exceptions filed to the distribution of the estate of M. F. Hipple, raising a question on a trust created by the testator for his twin children. The court says the question is prematurely raised, as the surviving twin is still a minor.

L. A. Clark & Co. glied William L. Sloan for $500 commission on a realty transaction. The plaintiff avers the deal was closed for Sloan on a telegram received from him while he was at Pasadena, Cal., and in which this sum was named as commission.

The West Side Belt Railroad Company and the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Railway Company filed demurrers to the bill in equity of Kirk G. Bigham, executor of Marin L. Bigham, saying the plaintiff has a remedy at law.

The case of Joseph L. Caldwell against H. S. Kerbaugh for $20,000 damages for loss of both eyes through a dynamite explosion was given to the jury. The case of Caldwell-smith against the Extreme Gold Mining and Milling Company to recover commissions for sale of stock will go to the jury this morning.

A hearing was held before United States Commissioner Gamble, in the equity case of Frank H. Fleer & Co. of Delaware against C. D. Cummings & Co. of Pennsylvania. The action on the consent of the copyright of the name "Chiclets," used for the sale of a certain kind of chewing gum.

Two petitions in bankruptcy were filed. Bert G. Goble, a building contractor of Pittsburgh, gives his assets as $14,606.89, and his liabilities as $23,545.96. Unliquidated claims amounting to $12,238.55 are part of the assets. William W. Stewart, a merchant of McDonald, Washington county, gives his assets as $4,219.95, and his liabilities as $7,673.16.

Katherine Prim, and others filed a petition asking that a receiver be appointed for F. C. Danner.

Clara E. Spring sued Charles A. Spring for a divorce, alleging desertion.

Leonard W. Schaffer filed a bill of particulars of defense to the suit of Peter W. Sandiagan, denying all charges of fraudulent representations in the sale of a half interest in a sugar works to Sandiagan.

An execution was issued on an $11,000 judgment bond given by Frank Grimm to secure the payment of an $8,500 mortgage on J. S. Bedell and others, for use of the executors of the estate of Robert Reinhold. The execution is to be released on payment of $8,482.50. Other executions are: Christian Lepper vs. Joseph Stifter, $745; Wabash Railroad Company vs. L. C. Goldsoll, $1,152; South Twelfth Street Building and Loan association vs. David W. Davis, et al., administrator, $170; James L. DeLong et al. executors, vs. Frank Grimm, $2,971, also on a bond to secure a mortgage; Glassport Lumber Company vs. J. Francis Horton et al., executors, $3,262.

In the Oil Fields

North of the Wildwood field, in Allegheny county, H. J. Parker is down 500 feet at a well on the Hardt farm. In the Brush Creek field McCann & Co. are reported to have a 12-barrel pumper at the Wallace farm. This well is some distance removed from any producing wells, and if as good as reported will stimulate new work in that locality. McCann & Co. hold leases on quite a large acreage in Franklin township.

Northeast of Bakerstown, Butler county, there is some new work starting in the vicinity of the 100-foot producer drilled in on the Lett Morrow farm by the Crown Petroleum Company two weeks ago. McIntosh & Co. are down 1,100 feet at a test on the McMorren farm. In the same district C. D. Greenlee & Co. are building the rig for a test on the Richard Morrow farm. The Reliance Oil Company is rigging up at a test on the Cunningham farm. The Crown Petroleum Company is getting in rig timbers for a test on the Dick Morrow farm. Near Karns City, James O'Harra has completed his No. 3 on the Morehead farm and has a show for a fair pumper.

Operators in the lower southwest fields are making few discoveries of any importance. The efforts to find new pools have failed in almost every instance and the wells completed inside of the old defined districts are nearly all small pumpers. In the Ankrom district, Tyler county, Neely, Casper & Co. have drilled their test on the J. A. Gorrell farm into the Maxon sand and have a show for a 20-barrel producer from that level. At the mouth of Parsley creek, Ellsworth district in the same county, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the W. H. Leasure farm into the top of the Keener sand and has a show for a good producer. This well is located in advance of developments.

On Lynn Camp run, Calhoun county, M. G. Zinn & Co. have drilled their second test on the W. H. S. Sherwood farm, located 800 feet west of No. 1 on the same farm, through the Berea grit, and found that formation barren. When drilled through the salt sand this well showed some oil, and will be tested from that formation. On Rowells run, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company has completed a second test on the Frank Fore farm and has a show for a light pumper in the Big Lime formation. This test is located 800 feet east of No. 1 on the same farm.

One and one-half miles northeast of Hurricane, Putnam county, the Velvet Oil and Gas Company is building the rig for a test on the Robert Thompson farm. Within the past year there has been a number of test wells drilled in Putnam county and gassers have been the best result. None of the wells drilled found oil in paying quantities and the gas was developed in the salt sand. In the Wellsburg field, Brook county, Heckman & Co.'s No. 1 on the Sabins Lewis farm is holding up at 320 barrels a day, since it was given a shot. Within the next week there will be several important test wells due in this district. The producing streak is very narrow and it takes close figuring to keep from missing it. On Kings run, near Blacksville, Monongalia county, J. E. Carnahan & U. H. Debendarfer's No. 1 on the Aipheus Sine farm is holding up at 100 barrels a day from the Big Injun. This is the well that was delayed a long time fishing for casing. On Goose creek, Germantown district, Ritchie county, the Southern

RECOVERY IN STOCKS MADE FURTHER PROGRESS

Prices Nearly Back to the Level Occupied Before the Money Market Became Stringent—Firmer Tone to Local Stock Market

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a decided improvement in the money situation in Wall street yesterday, so far as rates for call loans were concerned. The latter did not get above 12 per cent and ruled considerably below that figure, closing at 5½ to 6½ per cent. The market for time loans remained firm, and there was a strong advance in sterling exchange, which removed prospects of gold imports. Secretary Shaw was in New York during the day, and there were numerous rumors as to his intentions regarding increasing government deposits with the banks in the west and south, but no action was taken. A million mere money was transferred from Canada to New York, and San Francisco transferred $850,000 new gold thither. The high rates also attracted funds from near cities. Still, close observers of the market thought they detected some manipulation. It was remarked that the heaviest calling of loans last week was by banks with supposed Standard Oil affiliations, while the most liberal lenders at the reduced rates yesterday were the same banks. Some people thought that the rate was depressed for the purpose of strengthening Secretary Shaw in his position of refusing to do anything unless called upon by the business interests.

Foreign quotations for American securities were firmer, but a break of 1 per cent in Russian bonds reflected the conditions prevailing in that empire, and the public and private advices received during the day represented the situation in Russia as growing worse instead of better. However, the foreign influences were ignored by Wall street. The recovery in values made further progress, there being a steady advance all day, and closing prices were not far from the highest. The average is now nearly back to the level occupied before the money market became stringent.

The activity was again congested in a comparatively small number of specialties, although the whole list shared in the improvement. One of the conspicuous movements of the day was in Hocking Valley common stock. The latter sold on Tuesday at 97½ and closed at 102. Yesterday it opened higher at 104½ to 106 and advanced without interruption to the close, which was at 119⅝. Here was a rise of nearly 22 points in two days and in the face of high rates for call loans. The explanation for the rise was a report that the preferred stock is to be retired and a guarantee of anywhere from 5 to 7 per cent made on the common stock, the road to be operated in the joint interest of Lake Shore and Pennsylvania. There was some activity in the Gould issues, but they closed at only small net gains.

Reading was carried up to 139⅜ and end closed at 138½, a net advance of 1⅜ per cent. Pennsylvania closed ⅝ higher, and the standard railroad issues closed ⅛ to 1 per cent higher.

In the industrial list Railway Steel Springs advanced 1 per cent over its previous high price, but reacted 2 per cent and closed unchanged for the day. American Locomotive common closed 1½ higher, and the minor iron and steel stocks were firm at an advance. United States Steel common crossed 37 and the preferred advanced to and closed at 102⅜, a net advance of ⅝ per cent. American Smelting common was very strong and closed 1⅝ higher. Amalgamated Copper closed 1⅜ higher.

The public utility stocks were active, but did not retain all their gains. Metropolitan Street Railway closing unchanged, Brooklyn Rapid Transit ⅜ higher and Consolidated Gas 2 per cent higher.

Activity in low-priced mining shares is all that saved the local stock market from stagnation. Nearly 5,000 shares Ohio Tonopah changed hands, out of a total of 7,500 shares for all stocks listed on the exchange. In the curb market about 25,000 mining shares were dealt in. The active members of the regular list were Manufacturers Light and Heat, which rallied to 34½, and Pittsburgh Brewing common, which declined to 26. Only five shares Pittsburgh Oil and Gas changed hands at 58. Philadelphia Company sold to the extent of 100 shares at 53½, a decline of ½. No definite information is yet obtainable concerning the rumored deal for changing control of Philadelphia Company. National Fire Proofing common declined a fraction to 6½, but the preferred was firmer, advancing to 21½. The Coal stocks were firmer. Pittsburgh Coal preferred rallied a dollar a share to 53½, while River Coal preferred remained steady and unchanged at 23. The Westinghouse stocks were dull but steady. The announcement of a new issue of stock by Central District and Printing Telegraph had no effect upon the market price of the stock. Iron City Trust was in better demand and advanced 4 per cent to 120 sales and bid. A small lot of Pittsburgh Trust sold at 440, a decline of 5 points. Consolidated Gas bonds were ⅜ lower at 100¾, and Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s declined ½ to 104¼.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

In conservative Wall street circles at the close of the market yesterday the opinion was expressed that the recovery in values had been too rapid to hold, and that if the rally continued today stocks would be a sale for a turn. General satisfaction was expressed over the relaxation in call money rates, and there was more or less discussion as to the means which had been used to ease the situation. It is not commonly believed that anything like sufficient liquidation of stocks or reduction of loans has been effected to accomplish the easier condition in the money market. It is known that very heavy resort has been made to other money centers to take over the credits which were being forced to settlement by the money stringency in New York and the attraction of the high interest rates made this feasible by bringing in large offerings of foreign money to the New York market. The operation in the pursuit of the same end has been a large transfer of speculative holdings from New York to foreign markets. This was accomplished by sales of stocks in New York and repurchases of the same issues in foreign markets. A parallel operation was the paying off of loans in New York by which the stocks were held and borrowing for a similar purpose in the foreign money market. The London demand for stocks is believed to be the result of this process and shows the offsetting effect of the operation in one market against the other. The high money rate also has attracted funds from out-of-town points both in Canada and the west.

The banking department at Albany yesterday issued a call for a report of the condition of the New York banks and trust companies, and the date selected was Nov. 9, the same as that for the national banks. There was some expectation in local banking circles that the same data would be selected for reports of the state banks and trust companies of Pennsylvania, but up to the close of banking hours yesterday no call had been received. Regarding the probable showing to be made by the New York banks in their weekly statement on Saturday, it was stated in stock exchange circles that the banks have decided for themselves to make further encroachments on their reserves in spite of the deficit below legal requirements shown last Saturday. Some of this speculative comment on the situation gives to the published utterances of the secretary of the treasury an inferential sanction to this action in case of its being necessary to avoid financial trouble. It is pointed out that the issuance of a call upon national banks to report their condition as of November 9 relieves them from the necessity of keeping up reserves for the purpose of window-dressing, as it is addressed only to an indication of the comptroller's call.

Pittsburgh is making a reputation for lucky investments in mining properties, and this reputation was enhanced yesterday by the remarkable advance in North Butte. This stock was the feature of the Boston market, advancing $7 a share from 60 to 67¾ bid at the close, the highest price ever quoted. During the first hour and a half the transactions on the Boston exchange foot up 8,250 shares, and the total for the day was 18,000 shares. The organizers of the company, including a number of Pittsburghers who scored such a bonanza in the Bisbee camp, paid $15 apiece for their North Butte. There was some rather heavy selling of the stock between $59 and $60 a share, and repurchases between $45 and $50. Pittsburgh was said to be taking profits yesterday, but the market absorbed all offerings and closed at the highest price of the day. A Boston dispatch said: "The strength in North Butte during the recent reaction in the copper shares has been a feature of the local copper share market. At no time has there been any selling pressure and the buying of late has been very conservative, based largely on investigations of the property which have been made by Boston interests. There is no pool in the stock and the action of the market is natural in every respect. H. H. Rogers is understood to have been implored by John D. Ryan to take over an option on this property before it finally lodges in the hands of Thomas F. Cole and his associates, but Mr. Rogers declined to do so. Mr. Rogers today is understood to own between 5,000 and 10,000 shares and was only prevented from selling out at 45 at the solicitation of Mr. Ryan." Another dispatch said: "Butte advices report that the October earnings of North Butte were $280,000. This result was attained after meeting the expense on account of extraordinary construction account. The company's Speculator shaft will go into commission within 20 days, when the daily ore output will be increased to 350 tons. The quarterly dividend to be declared this month is not likely to exceed 75 cents a share, as the company recently purchased some valuable claims, the announcement of which may be expected very soon. With shaft service restored, the Speculator vein will be operated and working costs reduced."

Low-priced mining shares in the local market were quite active. On the exchange nearly 5,000 shares Ohio Tonopah changed hands at 26c to 28c. R. C. Hall and Carothers & Co. sold 1,000 shares to Scully, Painter & Beech. The latter firm was a heavy seller of Back Hills at 32c to 35c in the curb market. Masten & Co. bought about 25,000 shares.

Andrew J. Davis was yesterday elected a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

Japanese bonds were extremely active in the New York market yesterday, the sales of all issues footing up $1,612,000, or nearly half the total day's business.

The current statement of the First National bank of Pittsburgh shows an increase of $140,907 in individual deposits since the statement of August 22. Its undivided profits increased in the same period from $405,332 to $429,934, besides paying a dividend of 4 per cent on its capital of $1,000,000, or $40,000.

The United States will participate in the proposed $250,000,000 4 per cent Japanese loan, which will be issued partly for converting the external 6 per cent loan and partly for the redemption of the internal loans, to the extent of about one-third of the entire issue. A representative of an international banking house says the work of financing the loan will be slow until money conditions begin to show some improvement.

Among the Pittsburgh national banks showing increases in deposits were: Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., $7,1.00; Commercial, $398,000; Columbia, $213,000; Diamond, $204,500; Duquesne, $104,000; Federal, $145,000; German, $378,000; Lincoln, $242,000; Metropolitan, $1,585,000; Monongahela, $51,000; National of Western Pennsylvania, $150,000; Pennsylvania, $44,000; Union, $776,000; United States, $11,000, and Washington, $33,000.

Deposits of the First National bank of Allegheny increased to $1,122,144 from $855,548 between November 10, 1904, and November 9, 1905.

The surplus and profits of the Farmers National bank increased $160,629 between statements, in addition to which a dividend of $45,000 was paid on October 1.

Deposits of the German National bank of Allegheny increased $461,314 to $3,442,661 between statements.

The Fourth National bank has declared a dividend of 3 per cent, payable November 20 to stock of record November 18.

The Standard Oil Company has declared a quarterly dividend of $10 a share. The previous dividend was $8 a share, and the dividend at this time last year was $7 a share. Yesterday's declaration brings the total dividend for the year to $40 a share. Last year it was $36.

The directors of the Mitchell Mining Company have declared an initial dividend of 6 per cent, payable 1 per cent bi-monthly, beginning January 1 next. There has been some rather extensive trading in this stock for Pittsburgh account recently.

The Erie report for the September quarter shows an increase in gross earnings of $671,616 and an increase in the net earnings of $21,201.

The finance committee of the sanitary district of Chicago accepted the joint bid of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company and N. W. Harris & Co. for the $1,000,000 4 per cent one to 20-year bonds. The price paid by the concern for the bonds was par, interest and a premium of $2,000.

Samuel Rea, third vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has announced that the company will equip with electric power the old West Jersey & Sea Shore railroad to Atlantic City and some of the suburban lines out of Camden. The work will be completed in about a year.

The decline in Russian 4 per cent bonds in London yesterday was accompanied by a rumor that the interest rate would be reduced to 3 per cent.

The Ontario & Western statement for the September quarter shows an increase in gross earnings of $303,862, and a decrease in net earnings of $34,990.

Stock of the Wananga Oil Company was yesterday listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. The company is capitalized at $900,000, the stock having a par value of $50 a share. Quarterly dividends of 1 per cent are being paid. The Guarantee Title and Trust Company is the transfer agent and stock is registered with the Safe Deposit and Trust Company. The officers are J. M. Critchlow, president; E. H. Seiple, vice president; John R. Miner, secretary and treasurer. These, with R. B. McDaniel, F. G. Merick, E. T. Roberts, M. Stewart, J. F. Miner and W. G. McKinney, form the board of directors. The company operates in Venango, Forest and Crawford counties. It has 170 producing wells, with a total daily production of 300 barrels. This production is settled and the company has considerable undeveloped property. A statement as of September 30 follows:

BELIEF HELP MAY COME STRENGTHENS MARKET

Speculators Confident of Financial Relief and Stocks Improve as a Result.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

Stocks underwent further recovery yesterday under the leadership of some of the specialties and the pool and clique issues. The movement of the day apparently owed its inception to the professional element, and was largely in the nature of a demonstration against the short interest. It had, however, for its foundation a decidedly easier tendency in the money market, and this was clearly enough demonstrated to be real by a sharp recovery of demand. Sterling, which rose up about 90 points to 4.85-99 with rates of 4.86 and even 4.86-10 quoted as bid for near option on demand bills. At this rate if money relaxed much further the discussions as to possible gold imports current on Tuesday are likely to change to discussion of possible gold exports in a few days hence. There were few signs of liquidation in yesterday's market, but sentiment was by no means changed. Bullish operators were notably enthusiastic over the recovery, but investors and conservatives were inclined to hold aloof, viewing the whole performance recently with suspicion.

Of actual news during the day there was very little, aside from the course of the money market. This, as already said, was decidedly easier, due to the natural automatic workings, the high rates resulting in bringing money from all parts of the country and thus tending to restore the equilibrium between the supply and demand. Secretary Shaw's plain intimation that he might afford government relief, if the business interests requested such, was naturally enough, taken as an invitation by the secretary for some merchants to make the request. The relationship of certain merchants with speculators and speculative institutions is intimate enough and well enough known in Wall street to lead to the conclusion that if the merchants speak the word the revised statutes will be shamed and the government resources used for the relief of the situation. This, of course, greatly encouraged the speculative element, and was the chief factor used by the bull clique in forcing the short interest to cover.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Money was much wanted in the market today in connection with stock exchange payday. The discount business was restricted. Rates were firm. Considerable attention was given to the weakness of New York exchange and the possibility of shipments of gold to New York from here. Trading on the stock exchange was cheerful in various quarters, though operators were largely occupied with the conclusion of the settlement. Business was moderate. Consols hardened, but at the close were a shade off. Home rails were buoyant. Americans opened firm, several stocks being well above parity. Trading was fairly active at the opening, but afterward was quieter, pending the reception of more definite news concerning the monetary situation in the United States. Prices improved after the receipt of New York's opening quotations and then eased and closed above the lowest points. Foreigners generally were in good demand, but closed dull. Japanese were active. Russians were heavy on the Vladivostok news, which was the announcement of another general strike in St. Petersburg, had a strongly unsettling tendency. Japanese imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 102¾. Consols for money, 88⅝; consols for account, 88⅝. Bar silver quiet at 29¾d an ounce. Money, 5½@6 per cent; discount for short bills, 4@4⅛ per cent; discount for three months' bills, 4 per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Trading on the bourse today was unsettled and prices had a downward tendency. The market closed weak. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 82 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 817. The private rate of discount is quoted at 3 per cent. Close: Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 50 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 25½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—Prices on the bourse today opened firm, but quotations immediately became weaker in sympathy with Russian bonds, which were again depressed sharply upon this morning's news from St. Petersburg. Exchange on London, 20 marks 44 pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3½ per cent; three months' bills, 4⅝ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $52,398. Of this amount $20,611 had been deposited at San Francisco and $31,782 at Seattle. Total thus paid since Friday, $140,679, against $241,177 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $5,118,000. Payment by banks to government, $5,098,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $15,000 paid by government to banks. Total payment by banks to government since Friday, $1,466,000, against $2,157,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago and $946,000 paid by government to banks a year ago. Total thus deposited since Friday, $200,000, against $855,000 for the same period a week ago.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Money on call firm at 5½@11 per cent; closing bid, 10 per cent; time loans firm; 60 days and 90 days, 6 per cent; six months, 6 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent; sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 85.75@4 85.80 for demand and at $4 82.10@4 82.20 for 60 days' bills; posted rates, $4 83@4 83½ and $4 86½@4 87; commercial bills, $4 81¾; bar silver, 63½c; Mexican dollars, 48¾c; government bonds steady; railroad bonds firmer.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balances, $126,881,025; gold coin and bullion, $80,285,623; gold certificates, $32,781,080; silver coin and bullion, $8,247,538; silver certificates, $3,721,529; United States notes, $3,630,851; treasury notes of 1890, $35,870; national bank notes, $3,766,550; total receipts this month, $24,397,771; total receipts this year, $221,505,138; total expenditures this month, $24,850,000; total expenditures this year, $220,189,000.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Activity in the drygoods market today was hindered somewhat by the extent to which goods were sold ahead and by the scarcity of spots. The outlook was for continued strength. Even though more or less irregularity was observable in raw material, no evidence of any influence upon the piece goods market was noted. Second hands continued busy in many departments.

BESSEMER IRON GROWS STRONGER

Upward Tendency in Price Is Still in Evidence, and Raw Materials Are Advancing.

GENERAL STEEL TRADE NEWS

The market in the various lines of iron and steel is holding firm, with the tendency to advance in price under the pressure of great demand still strongly in evidence. It was stated yesterday that Bessemer pig iron has been sold in at least one instance as high as $17.50, valley furnace. It is certain the price is firm at not less than $17.25, and those most closely in touch still predict $20 iron before the end of the year.

Beyond all expectations prior to September 1, the heavy demand is being maintained in raw materials. Spot furnace coke is selling not below $3 and for delivery extending over the first half of 1906 contracts now call for $3 10 or better. This compares with $1 90 and $2 at this time a year ago. Spot foundry coke is worth $4. Contracts made some time ago for delivery in 1906 at $3 50 could not be duplicated now.

The ore contracts for next year will probably be on a basis much higher than the present one. An estimate was made recently that this year's shipments of ore down the lakes will be above 35,000,000 tons, rather than below.

In the finished lines the same conditions prevail. The orders in the majority of lines are still far ahead of the capacity of the mills. It is said that structural steel cannot be delivered on orders given now before July.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business shows continued activity, a very large volume of goods moving out, and into the hands of retailers from the jobbers' stocks, the jobbers in turn calling on manufacturers for large supplies, so that it makes the trade very active. In fact some lines of goods are scarce and hard to get, and it is possible that they may be still scarcer. The demand is for practically all lines of season goods, builders' hardware, carpenters and mechanics' tools and at this time a large line of sporting goods and ammunition. Cutlery and fancy goods are also commencing to move very freely in anticipation of the holiday requirements of the retail trade. The window glass business continues much the same as at our last report, the demand seeming to be, if anything, a little heavier and orders larger. Prices in all lines are firm, there being no recent changes. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount, 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount, 30 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $8.50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount, 70, 10 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2.35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, a ton, $27.00; window glass, first two brackets 90 and 25 per cent; above, 90 and 10 per cent; Albion sewing machines, discount, 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion hot plates, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay forks, 60 per cent.

IRON TRADE SCARCELY ABLE TO MEET DEMAND

Every Branch of Steel Business Working to Fullest Capacity and Behind Orders.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say of the iron and steel trades:

There is no truth in the report, given wide currency, that the Steel Corporation had purchased 50,000 tons of Bessemer pig for the first quarter from the valley furnaces. It is understood that negotiations are pending, however.

It is understood that early last week the east iron pipe interests purchased 20,000 tons of pig iron, and that further considerable quantities are wanted, although buyers seem to shy at present prices. So far as southern makers are concerned, the largest are demanding $16 60 for No. 2 Birmingham. Prices here run all standard iron available at $14 81. The Lake Superior charcoal producers have put up prices $1 per ton to $18 90 at furnace.

The pressure for structural material continues unabated, but the new tonnage being placed is moderate. Among the business coming up is 8,000 tons for an extension of the Northwest Elevated in Chicago. In castings a very big order has just been awarded by the builders of the McAdoo tunnel. The quantity involved is about 40,000 tons, which is a little over one-half of the requirements.

BLAST FURNACES ARE WORKING TO THE LIMIT

Every Available Stack in Operation and Serious Shortage Is Imminent.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 15.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say:

In spite of the very great activity of blast furnaces in all parts of the country—every available stack being in operation—there is strong evidence that the production is not equal to the demand, and that if present capacity continues there will be a decided shortage next spring.

In some sections, where the product is mainly far in excess of the local demand, orders are now being placed for shipments from other centers; for example, smelters in the Youngstown district have purchased iron to be shipped considerable distances and delivered during the first quarter of next year at $17 50 at buyers' plants. Buffalo interests which have been shipping to Chicago and other distant points are receiving heavy inquiries, some of which come from Canada. There has been great activity in pig iron in the Chicago district, the local producer selling at from $19.00 to $20 50 for No. 2 foundry, and southern irons at $18 15 for the same grade. Inquiries at Chicago included 15,000 tons of basic, 10,000 tons of foundry and silvery irons, and many demands for smaller lots. The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company has placed an order for 30,000 tons with Buffalo and Virginia furnaces.

Rail sales include 25,000 tons each to the Union Pacific and Boston & Maine; 10,000 tons to the Pacific & Idaho Northern; 9,000 tons for the Yosemite Valley; 5,000 tons for trolley lines and many small lots ranging from 2,000 to 4,000 tons. These sales following the tremendous orders already placed are noteworthy.

STANDARD MAKING MONEY.

Quarterly Dividend of Ten Per Cent Increases Profits Over Those of Last Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Directors of the Standard Oil Company met today and declared a quarterly dividend of 10 per cent on the $98,338,000 stock outstanding. This payment, which will amount to $9,833,800, compares with $6,832,000 distributed three months ago, and $7,823,000 for the corresponding period of last year.

Total dividends for 1905, amounting to 40 per cent, compare with 36 per cent for 1904, 41 per cent for 1903, 45 per cent for 1902, 48 per cent for 1901 and 1900, 35 per cent for 1899, 30 per cent for 1898, 33 per cent for 1897, 21 per cent for 1896, and 12 per cent annually from 1891 to 1895.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5@10 points in response to steady European cables and somewhat smaller Brazilian receipts. There was little fresh business, but switching was on an enormous scale, large blocks of December being exchanged for May at 35 points and for September at 90 points. This was accomplished without weakening the tone of the market to any extent, and after selling down 5 points on a couple of months, making the general range 5 points net higher, the market was finally closed the entire trading by covering of shorts, and the close was very steady at a net gain of 10@15 points. Sales reached 323,250 bags. Sugar—Raw steady; fair refining, 2¾c; centrifugal, 3 7-16c; molasses sugar, 2¾c; refined quiet.

Dried Fruit Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—There has been little change in the market for evaporated apples, and while better assortments are obtainable on spot, high grades are very firmly held. Local quotations range from 4½c to 7½c, according to grade, latter for large sizes of Oregon. Apricots are firm as a result of small offerings, for demand is quite moderate. Choice are quoted at 8½@9c; extra choice, 9½@9¾c; fancy, 10@11½c. Peaches also are firm, with choice quoted at 10c; fancy, 10½c; extra fancy, 11½@12c. Raisins are unchanged, with loose muscatel quoted at 5½@7½c; seeded raisins, 5½@7½c; London layers, $1 20@1 25.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—On the produce exchange today the butter market was steady; creameries, 17½@23c; dairies, 17@23c. Eggs firm; at mark, cases included, 17@23c; firsts, 23c; prime firsts, 26c; extras, 28c. Cheese, firm, 13@13½c.

PREDICT AN ADVANCE FOR SWEET POTATOES

Prices Will Probably Rise Today and the Southern Tuber Will Command a Good Sale.

Along with the continued advance in the price of Irish potatoes comes the report that sweet potatoes are soon to ascend the scale. Sweet potatoes have remained steady for some time, while the price of Irish potatoes have been steadily advanced. As far as stock is concerned the sweet potatoes have been ruling much better than the others, as Irish potatoes have been of extremely poor quality for some time.

The supply of apples is growing somewhat heavier with a better grade than has been seen for some time. They command a very good price and sales are heavy.

There is a heavy sale of canned goods of all kinds, especially in cheap canned corn. Canned tomatoes are quiet. Apricots are reported scarce, but there is not much of a demand. Peaches are a favorite with all buyers.

The butter market is quiet after the advances of Monday. The supply of strictly fancy fresh creamery is rather weak, stock of high-grade commands the figures quoted.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania—Hay, 11 cars; oats, 7 cars; corn, 13 cars, and feed, 4 cars. Baltimore & Ohio—Hay, 4 cars; corn, 1 cars; feed, 1 car, and straw, 1 car. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—Hay, 1½ cars, and oats, 2 cars.

There was little change in the market during the day. Receipts were rather light and all arrivals were picked up very quickly. There is a continued scarcity of straw. The shortage of cars is having great effect upon the entire market.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Frank A. Schirmer, Boston director of the Boston Consolidated, has concluded his inventory of the company's Bingham resources and has gone east. On the eve of his departure Mr. Schirmer said the output of ore and the earnings of the company are limited only by the limitations imposed upon them by the capacity of the smelters. The company is now forwarding 250 tons daily to the Bingham Consolidated furnaces.

At a conference between the Rio Grande officials and representatives of the Salt Lake smelters, mills and mines, the tariff on ores between Bingham and the plants now under construction at Garfield was agreed upon. The rate conceded by the Rio Grande is so low as to do away entirely with plans for independent means of transportation which had advanced as far as preliminary surveys and the huge volume of traffic will go to the Rio Grande. A branch will be completed under agreement in time to meet the requirements of the producers.

The price of zinc ore in the Joplin market remained unchanged during the week at $35 a ton. The assay price was $30 to $32 per ton for 60 per cent zinc. The output was greater than in any previous week of the year. Lead advanced $2 per ton on all grades.

At a meeting of the Cripple Creek mine owners an agreement was reached for the construction of the proposed new drainage tunnel. The tunnel company agrees to dispose of sufficient of its capital stock to realize $500,000 by July 1, 1906, and to start boring the tunnel within 60 days thereafter and continue the work until completed. The mine owners agree to pay to the tunnel company, beginning July 1, 1907, 2 per cent of the value of all ores produced thereafter from the portion of the mining premises lying above a certain section of the tunnel.

A dispatch from Boulder, Colo., says: "Col. S. B. Dick, president of the Colorado & Northwestern railroad and also of the Pennsylvania Mining Company, operating the Mogul tunnel at Eldora, arrived here accompanied by G. J. Davenport of Meadville, Pa., and C. F. Mackey. It is understood that Co. Dick and associates have in contemplation the revival on an extensive scale of mining operations at Caribou by a tunnel which will unwater the great Caribou and other mines.

The New York and Honduras Mining Company has declared the regular 1 per cent dividend, payable November 25.

Homestake mining directors have declared the regular monthly dividend of 50 cents, payable November 25.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—A $7 rise in Butte was the feature today and 75 is predicted for the stock. Mohawk and Range were also strong. There seems to be a little revival of interest in Franklin and Rhode Island and they will sell higher. Copper is stronger each day, both in London and New York. NEW YORK,

YOUNG RAILROAD MEN STEP UPWARD

Several Appointments Are Announced—Will Soon Open Information Bureau.

Y. M. C. A. IS TO CELEBRATE

Three appointments announced yesterday are of more than usual interest here, in that young men are promoted to good berths. Leslie E. Thompson, who has been chief clerk of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain and Denver & Rio Grande passenger offices here under Central Passenger Agent John R. James, has been appointed traveling freight agent of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain route under Commercial Freight Agent C. C. McCarthy. The appointment is effective December 1. Mr. Thompson succeeds James T. Nelson, who has been appointed to the newly-created office of commercial agent of the Denver & Rio Grande in this city. He has been with the passenger department of the road since May 1, 1899. His father, the late S. H. Thompson, was Mr. James' predecessor as central passenger agent.

W. H. Wilson, who has been master mechanic of the Delaware division of the Erie at Susquehanna, Pa., has been appointed superintendent of motive power of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, with headquarters at Du Bois, Pa. He succeeds E. E. Davis, whose resignation was announced in this column a few days ago.

J. H. Bell has been appointed assistant district superintendent of the Pullman Company here under District Superintendent G. H. Edwards, and has entered on his new duties in the Penn avenue offices. He was formerly agent for the company at Toledo, in which position he is succeeded by A. K. Spinney.

Gray and Grayburn to Take Charge.

Station Master W. H. Niebaum of the Pennsylvania said yesterday that George Grayburn and Samuel Gray have been selected to take charge of the information bureau that will be opened at the Union station on Saturday or Monday. These men have served as ushers for a long time and are well versed in tickets, routing, schedules, connections, etc. About a year ago they passed the examination for ticket examiners and since then have been serving in this capacity in connection with their work as ushers. They are also well up on the business houses, hotels, streets and street car line of the city. The bureau will contain a complete list of time tables of all railroads and steamship lines.

B. & O. Cuts M. of W. Department.

At the maintenance of way meeting held at the Baltimore & Ohio station Tuesday, it was decided to place the maintenance department on the winter basis yesterday. About 300 section men and extra maintenance workmen were discharged, this reduction being about 25 per cent of the entire force. The Pennsylvania lines reduced their road forces to the winter basis about four weeks ago.

Anniversary of Y. M. C. A.

The twenty-second anniversary of the Pennsylvania railroad department of the Young Men's Christian association of Pittsburgh will be celebrated next Sunday afternoon in the car shops at Pitcairn. Among those scheduled for addresses are James W. Wardrop, secretary of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association, who was formerly a railroad officer, and the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church. It is also probable that Robert Pitcairn, Superintendent Long and other railroad officers will make short addresses. A special train will leave Pittsburgh at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to carry those having invitations. This train will stop at all stations between the Union station and Pitcairn excepting Copeland, Bessemer and East Pittsburgh. It will return immediately after the meeting. The committee is composed of W. G. Northwood, F. L. Miller, H. M. Meason, Robert Pickworth and A. L. Berghane, assisted by Chairman W. M. McIntyre and General Secretary M. W. Callender.

B. & O. Agents Hold Day's Session.

The monthly meeting, the second since organization, was held yesterday by the agents of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, with Freight Agent R. M. Pyle of Pittsburgh presiding. The subject of centralizing freight and other topics of particular interest to the agents were discussed. A. E. Day of the general transportation offices of Baltimore, who has charge of loading orders at all stations on the road, and Freight Agent C. A. Quinn of New Castle, were present.

Moody Holding Staff Meeting.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, is holding a staff meeting at Columbus today of all assistant and district passenger agents of the points west of Pittsburgh. Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent Frank Van Dusen, District Passenger Agent J. K. Dillon and F. B. Eshelman, manager of the advertising bureau, are attending from Pittsburgh.

New Trains on Pennsylvania.

A train between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh is being considered for the new time card of the Pennsylvania. Another feature in the new service will be an extra mail train between New York and Pittsburgh. Two trains will be added to the Greensburg-Pittsburgh service by the extension of two trains from Pitcairn to Greensburg. A few trains will be extended from Pitcairn to Trafford City.

"Old Reliable" Going to Mexico.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Old Reliable Conductors' Life Insurance association will be held at the City of Mexico on December 7 and 8, and will be attended by about 25 men from the Pittsburgh roads. These men will go to St. Louis November 29 and join a large delegation that will travel southward over the Iron Mountain route by special train. Interesting points in Mexico will be visited. Among those who will go from here are G. C. Patterson, L. P. Easton, W. M. Sybert, C. P. Lenhart, J. L. McKelvey, S. R. Tarner, J. R. Campbell, S. E. Hartzell, S. S. Miller and W. B. Chislett of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania; John Walters, W. T. Phillips, Charles Bentley and L. S. Johnson of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania; T. E. Lankhead and E. S. Perschie of the Panhandle, and C. W. Ball of the Baltimore & Ohio. Mr. Chislett is first vice president and Mr. Johnston is third vice president of the "Old Reliable."

Railroad Notes.

The contractors will begin in a few days to remove the Bulger tunnel on the Panhandle.

The United Coal Company has just completed a large tipple and coal yard at Holsopple on the Somerset & Cambria branch of the Baltimore & Ohio, 12 miles south of Johnstown. A branch line five miles long will be completed in a few days. The company will produce about 60 carloads of coal a day.

Trinity Methodist Protestant church in Bidwell street, Allegheny, has extended the privileges of the gymnasium to Pennsylvania Company employes on Friday evenings, and instruction is given by Prof. Little. This arrangement is necessary because of improvements that are being made by the company in Allegheny. A new building will probably be provided for the Pennsylvania Company Employes' Christian association in a few months.

The Pennsylvania has ruled that trip passes will not be accepted on the New York special, which leaves Pittsburgh at 10 o'clock p. m. The use of the passes in connection with payment of fare from Philadelphia to New York has given a great deal of trouble to the conductors and ticket receivers. Persons riding on passes will be required to leave on the Philadelphia special and purchase tickets at Philadelphia.
